U. S. Unveils Outer Space Probe Fund

Includes Half Dozen Rockets, Inflatable Communication Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government unveiled spending plans today for a space program that will include half a dozen rocket shots into outer space and launching of an inflatable communications satellite twice the width of a basketball court.

These are among 105 million dollars of projected 1959 spending for which contract awards were announced by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Included in this year's spending plans is 17 million dollars earmarked for equipment for eventual manned space flight—a goal not expected to be achieved this year.

Other Awards

Other major awards for 1959 projects included:

1. $8,500,000 to the Air Force for deep space probes—shots toward Venus and other planets.

2. $7,120,000 to the Air Force for Thor-Able rocket boosters to launch satellites and $8,540,000 to the Army for Juno II satellite boosters.

3. $2,110,000 to the Army, two million to the Air Force and $208,000 to the Navy for moon probe projects in addition to the five previously taken over from the Defense Department.

Communications Sphere

4. $2,150,000 to the Army Ordnance Missile Command for launching a 100-foot inflatable sphere to be used as a communications satellite.

5. 23½ million to the Office of Naval Research for the Vanguard II weather eye satellite launched Tuesday and for three remaining satellite launches.

6. $1,000,000 to the Atomic Energy Commission for its program to develop a nuclear rocket engine.

NASA said 10 million dollars will be spent this year on its 102-million-dollar contract to develop a million-pound thrust, single-chamber rocket engine. This contract, announced previously, was awarded to the Rocketdyne Division of North American Aviation, Inc.

Weather Satellite Still Circles Earth

WASHINGTON (AP)—The future man in space may some day get an answer to the important question "Where am I?" from the computing system now cranking out orbit schedules for America's new weather satellite.

The answer will be vital. For a space voyager must know how high he is—and how fast he is traveling in order to plan his return.

The prediction that the Vanguard computing center here will be able to provide the answer came today from Dr. Evelyn Boyd and Chester Raker, two of the mathematicians programming.

The new Vanguard continued to slice through space today, sending back weather information from its orbit.

Sure Of Orbit

Although the orbit of Vanguard II was not announced until a couple of hours after it was launched, Raker said today the center was sure of an orbit within 15 to 30 minutes after launching.

Immediately after the launching Tuesday at Cape Canaveral, Fla., a new computer at the launching site—fed by radar sightings—started pouring out predictions at the rate of 10 a second.

These forecasts for Canaveral's range safety officer the place where the rocket would fall if its power failed.

Mrs. FDR, Lehman Message Rejected

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—A message of congratulations from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Herbert Lehman was rejected by the New Mexico House of Representatives.

The telegram from the two, representing the National Council for Industrial Peace, congratulated the State Legislature for its action in killing right-to-work constitutional amendments in both houses.

Leaders Of AFL-CIO Laud Reuther Comeback At Ike

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI)—AFL-CIO leaders today praised Walter Reuther for his comeback at President Eisenhower's jobs.

Reuther said in direct reply to Eisenhower's comments at his press conference in Washington Wednesday.

Reuther also won cheers from fellow labor leaders for defending his proposal for a demonstration

Rep. Reed, GOP Tax Writer, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Daniel Alden Reed (D-N.Y.) died today of a heart attack. The 83-year-old congressional veteran was stricken at Walter Reed Army Hospital where he had been under treatment for 14 weeks for an infected foot.

As ranking Republican and former chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, Reed was known best as an advocate of protective tariffs to fend off competition from foreign goods.

He fought unsuccessfully for an income tax cut in 1953, against the stand of the Eisenhower administration, and was a bitter opponent of the excess profits tax. In one debate on a tariff raising bill, an opponent said the measure would "contradict the American foreign policy effort to strengthen and unify the free world."

Reed's response: "I am fed up with people who are more interested in the nerves and feelings of other countries than our own."

Reed was the second oldest member of the House. Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich.) is the eldest, by five days.

Reed was sworn in for his newest term at the hospital. He had not attended any House meetings at this session.

Reed, often was at odds with President Eisenhower over tax cuts.

Reed, a resident of Dunkirk, was educated in Sheridan and Silver Creek, N.Y., and was graduated from Cornell University. He was an attorney.

In addition to the House Ways and Means Committee, he had served as alternating chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Internal Revenue, and vice chairman of the Joint Committee on the Foreign Economic Policy Commission.

Reed was first elected to Congress when Dwight D. Eisenhower was a temporary colonel who had tried to switch from a desk to a fighting job.

Hospital Reports Marshall 'Same'

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall remained in serious condition here today. He suffered a mild stroke Wednesday and a slight case of pneumonia.

A morning report from Womack General Hospital here reported that the 78-year-old retired general's condition remained the same. A doctor was at Marshall's bedside during the night.

Marine Leader Of Death March Gets Discharge

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (UPI)—Acting Cpl. Matthew McKoon, central figure in the Parris Island, S.C., "death march" almost three years ago, will be honorably discharged from the Marine Corps here later this month.

A spokesman for the Marine Corps Air Station here said Wednesday a physical evaluation board had recommended that McKoon be discharged because of a ruptured spinal disc. The secret discharge Feb. 2 and McKoon will leave the service as soon as the necessary paperwork is completed.

The red-haired Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, and an AFL-CIO vice president, is scheduled to take time out from the executive committee meetings to make a picket line speech today. He is due to visit the scene of a 3½ month strike-structure who led a platoon of recruits into a tidal creek here, six of them drowned the night of April 3, 1956.

Ike Arrives For Mexico Visit, Talks

Officials, Excited Throng Gave Warm Greeting To Party

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—President Eisenhower flew into this tropical resort today to begin two days of talks with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. The 49-year-old Mexican leader led a big delegation of government officials who gathered at the gaily bedecked airport to welcome Eisenhower.

Thousands of excited Mexicans lined the streets of Acapulco to join in the greeting.

Slipped In Texas
The President flew here in his personal plane, the Columbine III, after an overnight stop in Texas.

With the Mexican President were U.S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill and Mexico's foreign minister, Manuel Tello.

Accompanying Eisenhower were his brother, Milton Eisenhower, a White House adviser on inter-American affairs, and Roy H. Rulbohm, assistant secretary of state for Latin American relations.

The President took 3 hours 37 minutes for the flight here from Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, Tex.

After greeting one another, the two presidents reviewed a military guard of honor composed of Mexico's presidential guards.

Then they left for Eisenhower's Acapulco "White House," the lush Pierre Marques Hotel.

It was the fourth visit of an American president to Mexico. Before Eisenhower came Presidents Taft, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman.

Posters along the route from the airport to the center of town featured the Mexican and American flags entwined.

Communist calls for anti-American demonstrations apparently were being ignored by thousands of holidaying Mexicans and others as the scrubbed and shining city readied its best holiday face for the chief executive from the north.

Communist pamphlets charged Eisenhower was coming to "enslave Mexico as a satellite of the United States. But the pamphlets were not widely distributed.

U.S. Secret Service agents here to guard Eisenhower during his two-day visit showed no concern. Mexican police have chased about 150 potential troublemakers out of town.

Beck Awaits Jury Verdict

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—A federal court jury deliberated today whether Dave Beck Sr., who rose from a laundry wagon driver to a millionaire labor leader, cheated on his income tax.

The jury of eight men and four women received the case at noon Wednesday and retired at 10:30 p.m., without reaching a verdict.

Beck, retired president of the Teamsters Union and once a member of the University of Washington Board of Regents, is accused of evading $240,607 in income tax for the years 1950-53.

If convicted, he could be sentenced to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine on each of the six counts on which he is charged.

For 'Well-To-Do' Only—Roulette Wheels, Dice Make Return In Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—The click of roulette wheels and the rattle of dice came back to Havana today like a sweet melody—for foreigners and well-to-do Cubans.

Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime added a little glitter to its reform program by taking the padlocks off the doors of the plush one and two million dollars gambling casinos. But poorer Cubans were still barred from the tables.

The multimillion-dollar industry that enriched fallen dictator Fulgencio Batista and many Americans, has resumed in 11 big Havana casinos. The revolutionary regime promised strict government control.

The National Institute of Savings and Housing will regulate the casinos. The new division of profits has not been announced, but the government has been considering taking 70 per cent—allocating 40 per cent for welfare and 30 per cent to promote tourism. Play in the old days often ran between midnight and two million dollars a night. The reopening casinos must have new operators with financial standing and no criminal records. The operators also must pay the seven weeks they have been idle.

Foreigners must declare their winnings at the Cuban National Bank. They will pay a 2 per cent tax for a permit to take their winnings out of Cuba.

Revolutionary Group Fights Panama Rule

Seizes City Hall, Demands Incumbent Councilors' Ouster

PANAMA (AP)—Several thousand demonstrators seized City Hall in the Panamanian capital Wednesday night after the beating of a radio commentator who had charged municipal funds were being misappropriated.

The crowd—which swelled to 5,000—demanded the ouster of the 15 city councilors and set up a council to run municipal affairs.

They kept control of the building until President Ernesto de La Guardia Jr. pledged that the regular councilors would be barred from their offices pending an investigation.

Guard Keeps Hands Off
The president ordered the National Guard to leave the demonstrators alone.

The self-described "Revolutionary Municipal Junta" announced it was taking over administration of municipal affairs until the council was replaced. The group is headed by Guillermo Marquez Briceño, a lawyer who gained prominence in 1957 for successfully defending seven persons charged with the assassination of President Jose Antonio Remon.

Issues Ordinances
The municipal junta began issuing sweeping ordinances but there was no indication how they would carry them out.

The march on City Hall was led by Ramon Pereira, a young radio commentator who had denounced the councilors at a rally Tuesday night. Bleeding from a head wound he charged that Councilman Mario Velasquez and five men invaded his radio station, fired revolvers, blackjacked him and attacked his wife and daughters. Radio listeners heard the sounds of the fight and gunfire.

Debbie Divorced
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Debbie Reynolds, without shedding a tear, today divorced singer Eddie Fisher on testimony that: "My husband became interested in another woman."

Senators Probe Chicago Jukebox Industry, Crime
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate probes take a look today at what they call underworld muscle used on the jukebox and pinball machine business in Chicago suburban areas.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the special Labor-Management Committee, predicted the evidence would follow a pattern somewhat similar to that in the just-completed hearings on coin machine operations in New York and Brooklyn. Testimony focused on alleged gangster-labor union conniving and terrorism.

The committee wound up its hearings on New York coin machine racketeers Wednesday with testimony that a group of jukebox operators loaned millions of dollars to New York racketeers at interest rates up to 100 per cent.

New Fleet Sub
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A second nuclear-powered submarine, the 2,310-ton Squalid, will be added to the Pacific fleet in April. The Navy announced the Squalid will shift its home port from Portsmouth, N.H., to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Gang Dispute Fatal To Boy

NEW YORK (AP)—A youth was fatally wounded Wednesday night as he walked along an East Harlem street. Police said he was the victim of gang trouble over a girl. Danny Garcia, 17, was struck by bullets in the side and shoulder.

Police rounded up about a dozen youths for questioning. They said they were told the Garcia boy was friendly with the Northmen Street gang and that he had gone out Sunday with a girl regarded as the girlfriend of a member of the rival Red Wings gang.

Rail Merger Study Urged By Perlman

NEW YORK (AP)—Alfred Perlman, president of the New York Central Railroad, today makes his pitch for a study of a merger of Eastern railroads into three or four big systems.

Perlman will offer his suggestion at the Eastern Railroad Presidents Conference. The conference will be closed to newsmen.

The ERPC is a 35-year-old luncheon club with no machinery within itself to undertake a merger study. Presidents of the Eastern roads meet about once a month for luncheon and to discuss mutual problems. That's the conference. When Central directors called off further studies on the Pennsylvania-Central merger early last month, they asked that Perlman recommend a bigger study before the presidents conference.

The Central's proposed studies are not new. Actually, there have been several government studies over the past half century on the possibility of merging Eastern railroads.

These studies envisioned three or four systems headed by Pennsylvania, the New York Central, the Baltimore & Ohio and possibly an Erie-Nickel Plate group.

This was learned today after Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, announced he would officiate at the March 10 investiture of the most Rev. John J. Wright as Bishop of Pittsburgh.

Cardinal O'Hara was to have officiated.

A hospital spokesman said the 70-year-old archbishop of Philadelphia was not ill and his condition was "not serious at all."

Zoo Keepers End Strike; Get Organizational Rights
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—A advisory staff members worked day three-day strike by 50 zoo keepers and night, without rest, to feed the 1,600 animals.

The monkeys' morale is suffering, trainer William Rogers said shortly before the walkout ended. "They know something's wrong and it's not good for Director George P. Viechler here."

The picketing keepers were not disturbed by opposing forces from the Institutional and Public Employees Union Local 410, who demanded organizational rights. Union spokesman Joseph L. Ames said battle lines had been drawn at "arms length."

Caught in the crossfire were the animal kingdom's subjects. Bitter cold weather Wednesday kept lions and llamas, elephants and 10 super-inside their pens.

Conference Accord Due During Day

Agreement Seen Near Ending Four Years Of Fighting

LONDON (AP)—Fatin Zorlu, the Turkish foreign minister, said tonight an agreement on Cyprus has been signed.

LONDON (AP)—Archbishop Makarios retorted in his demands today and all indications pointed to a successful conclusion—perhaps this afternoon—to the Cyprus independence conference.

A full conference session was scheduled for the afternoon with Prime Ministers Macmillan of Britain, Karamanlis of Greece and Menekides of Turkey attending. Inclusion of the prime ministers was taken as an indication that agreement was near on the plan to end four years of bloodshed on the strategic east Mediterranean island.

Makarios, leader of the island's Greek Cypriot majority, was reported to have modified his objections to Britain's retention of sovereignty over her military bases on Cyprus.

The bolder 45-year-old politician modified his earlier objections to the Zurich plan, informants said, after being served this ultimatum:

Accept the blueprint drafted by Greece and Turkey for giving the British crown colony independence or accept the responsibility for the negotiations ending in failure.

Greek Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff emerged Wednesday night from an emergency session of conferences—including Makarios—and told newsmen: "There is better than a 50-50 chance of success."

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Zorlu commented: "Agreement? Maybe tomorrow."

The tense two-hour session came after reports Makarios clashed with the Greek government delegation headed by Premier Constantine Karamanlis. Informants said the two finally had ironed out their differences.

Karamanlis, a staunch supporter of the archbishop in his long fight with Britain to gain freedom for Cyprus, was reported angry at Makarios' unbending attitude toward a compromise.

The British, Greek and Turkish governments and representatives of 100,000 Turkish Cypriots have reached basic agreement on the shape of a republic for the strategic east Mediterranean island.

Wabash Still On Rampage
MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (UPI)—The flood-swollen Wabash River bulged into a giant lake 35 miles long and 14 miles wide at its widest point today, immersing thousands of acres of farmland in Illinois and Indiana.

The river, which earlier tore holes in levees at Russellville, Ill., and Oaktown, Ind., surged past Mount Carmel Wednesday night at 24.5 feet, inundating a 20-block lowland area of the city of 7,732 population.

About 75 homes in the area suffered water damage but only 8 to 10 families moved out. The rest took refuge on second floors of their homes to wait out the flood.

The storied stream was expected to crest at Mount Carmel 25 feet today. However, little further damage was predicted since most of the city is on high ground.

Fog Blanket Stuns Britain On Land, Sea

LONDON (UPI)—A great blanket of fog hovered over southern England today, paralyzing land, sea and air transportation in the worst blackout in 20 years. London airport has been out of service since Wednesday night, but service in the city was virtually nonexistent, and the few trains that completed journeys to the capital ran far behind schedule. Highways leading in London were clogged by abandoned cars and trucks. Shipping officials were assembling tenders to take passengers off the giant liner Queen Elizabeth, fog-bound for four days in the English Channel a few miles from Southampton. The fog caused a number of shipping accidents — notably the grounding of a Norwegian tanker near the Isle of Wight and a collision between a small British liner and a fishing boat — but no casualties were reported. Similar conditions applied in 25 counties a belt of territory stretching from the Channel to the industrial midlands. "We cannot recall such a complete and widespread blackout," said auto-club spokesmen. "Conditions are the worst in 20 years."

New Wakeathon Record Claimed By Disc Jockey

WALLACE, N.C. (AP) — Don Tucker, a husky disc jockey who talked, played and yawned his way to a new sleepless record, was well into his first slumber in 10 days today. Tucker, his voice hoarse and eyes nearly closed, ended a 227-hour broadcast from a furniture store show window at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. The old mark, 225 hours, was claimed last month by a Jacksonville, Fla., disc jockey, Dave Hunter. "I feel fine," Tucker, 21, whispered as he entered Duplin County Memorial Hospital. The 6-foot-5, 240-pounder received a brief examination and moments later was asleep.

Air Force Probes Set For Venus

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The planet Venus will be the target for two Air Force satellites in June.

Informed sources said Wednesday the probes will be attempted with two-stage Atlas and Thor missiles. The shooting dates will come midway through June when the earth and Venus are in the best position for the launchings. Atlas-Able, which later will be the carrier for reconnaissance satellites, weighing several tons, will be a two-stage vehicle using the powerful Atlas ICBM as the booster. Thor-Able, using the Air Force's intermediate range ballistic missile as the first stage, already has been launched seven times with varying degrees of success. One of the shots probably will be an attempt to circle Venus with a satellite while the other probe may be fired past the planet into outer space, it was learned.

Iraq Leader Faces Fierce Civil Strife

Kassem's Break With Nasser, Tie To Communies Cited

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's split with the followers of U.A.R. President Nasser and his closer relations with Iraq's Communists are threatening to tear his revolutionary government apart and plunge the nation into fierce civil strife. Kassem himself is still extremely popular, but there are many doubts arising about his future.

In short, the honeymoon is ending for the revolutionary forces which overthrew the pro-Western government of Nuri Said and assassinated young King Faisal last summer. With the Nasserites evicted from the Cabinet, the men around Kassem now are dissipating popular enthusiasm for the republican regime by an increasingly stern effort to put Iraq into a quasi-Marxist doctrinal straitjacket through police state methods.

The result is a wave of privately voiced criticism which would have been unthinkable a month ago. The trend appears to be toward even more of a military dictatorship, with political inspiration coming from the far left. The government's new direction stems from Kassem's stubborn determination to rival Nasser as a candidate for eventual leadership of all the Arabs. To do this under present circumstances Kassem must play along with the Iraqi Communists, in effect giving the Soviets another potential bridgehead in the Middle East.

Tawes Backs Plan To Halt Violations

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Here is the way Gov. Tawes proposes cracking down on repeated traffic law violators through a point-system. There are 14 infractions which can result in suspension or revocation of your license. Half of them, the seven most serious of offenses, will lift it after the first violation. Through the lesser ones you will accumulate points leading to its revocation.

Conviction can result in the following entries on your driving record:

Moving violations such as running through a stop sign—2 points. Violations contributing to an accident—3 points. Speeding 10 miles an hour or more over a posted limit—3 points.

Reckless driving—4 points.

Failure to report an accident—5 points.

Permitting an unlicensed operator to operate your motor vehicle—4 points.

Leaving the scene of a collision with no personal injury involved—8 points.

Leaving the scene of a collision where there has been personal injury—12 points.

Operating a motor vehicle after suspension or revocation of license—12 points.

Obtaining or attempting to obtain a driver's permit by misrepresentation—12 points.

Loaning or altering a permit—12 points.

Conviction for any homicide or assault committed by means of an automobile—12 points.

Driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs—12 points.

Any felony involving use of an automobile—12 points.

The proposed law provides that an accumulation of 3 points bring a warning from the Department of Motor Vehicles. Five points will require you to visit the department for a conference. Eight points will suspend a license for 2 to 30 days and 12 will revoke it.

If you can show that not driving a motor vehicle to work will adversely affect your employment, a total of 15 points will be required for suspension and 18 for revocation.

Suspensions after the 2 to 30 days for the first one would run from 30 to 90 days.

Points assessed against you could not be retained for more than 3 years following their assessment.

Commissioners Talk At Grocers Session

County Commissioners John J. Rowan and John Tucker Mason explained some phases of county government and financial problems to about 80 members of the Independent Retail Food Dealers of Western Maryland at a meeting Tuesday night at Central YMCA.

William G. Beier, president of the grocers, reported on a hearing at Annapolis last week on Del. William Walsh's bill to authorize the State Roads Commission to buy land along U. S. 40 in Western Maryland for development as recreation areas.

The Auxiliary of the YMCA served a buffet supper after the meeting. The next meeting will be held March 17.

Communes "Pride" Of Red China

Editor's Note—Life in a Chinese people's commune is organized to the best detail, and production is rationalized, but what happens to the individual? Dr. Sripati Chandrasekhar tells about the strange social experiment he studied first-hand during his travels in Red China. This is the fourth of five articles on his trip.

By Dr. Sripati Chandrasekhar

Communist Chinese officials are very proud of their latest development in agricultural production and ownership, the communes, for here they have gone one step beyond the Soviet Union.

During my six-week trip through Red China, I visited four communes. The one which was best organized from the official point of view—a kind of showpiece—appeared to control every conceivable aspect of human life from morning to night, from birth to death.

The Chuli Yin people's commune is located about 80 miles north of Chingchow in Honan Province.

This commune was to set the pattern for the whole country and was organized in the upsurge of the "big leap forward" in agriculture.

Chairman Mao Tse-tung of the Chinese Communist party happened to visit this place to see the agricultural cooperatives and all the peasants met him and declared they wanted real communism. But the cadres (the officials) were lukewarm.

Mao agreed with the peasants on the need for communes and pointed out that they were more progressive than their officials. And the next day, July 20, 1958, the people's commune came into being. That's what the director told me.

This commune was made up of 66 villages. The houses, the land, the implements, the cottage industries and the kitchen utensils were all owned by the commune. It also owned and ran a few iron smelters (steel production is becoming a cottage industry), repairing mills, wheat flour mills, tailors' establishments, tile and brick kilns, fertilizer plants, etc.

The commune managed 228 public canteens where all adults ate in hotel-type dining halls. There were 135 public nurseries where babies from a week to four years old were taken care of. There were 180 kindergartens where children from 4 to 6 years old were housed and taught.

There were also two middle schools where 1,450 students between 7 and 18 years received some instruction. There were 36 Red and expert schools (Socialist professional and technical schools). The commune also ran two large rural hospitals with 14 outpatient departments which administered traditional Chinese medicine (like herbs and skinpuncture). The adult population was distributed over 146 productive teams to work in rice, vegetable and cotton fields, small industries, canteens, public nurseries, schools, hospitals and so on.

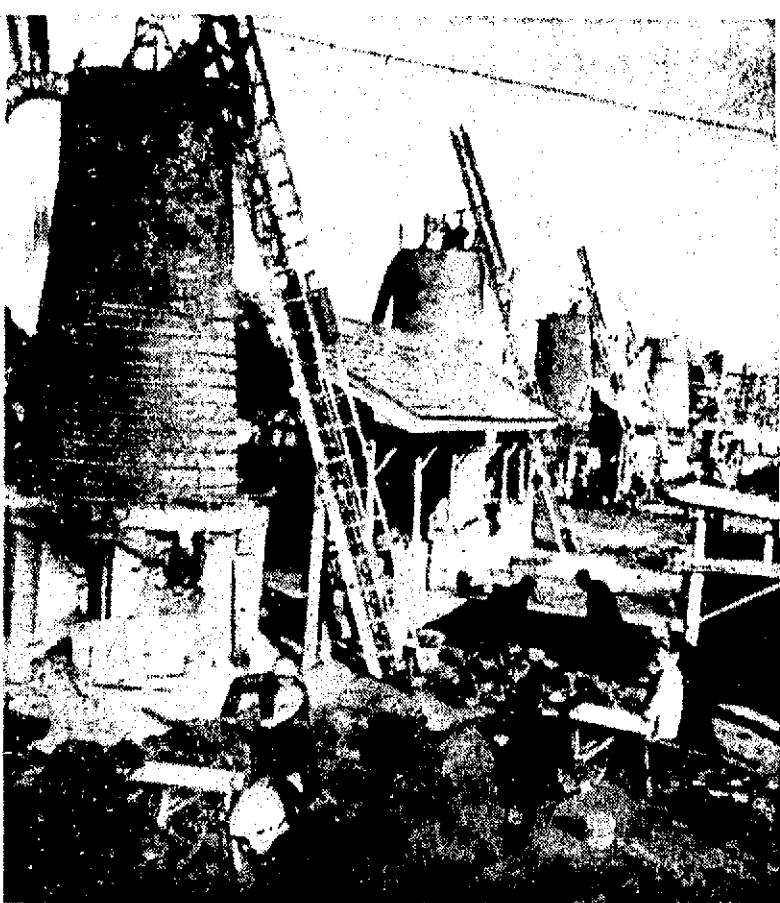

All the village houses were owned by the commune, and there was not an empty room anywhere. I visited two of the 24 "happy homes for the aged." The old people were housed in former landlords' homes. They were in the 65-70 age group and appeared to be happy.

What is the working day like in this commune? Men and women wake up in the morning to the blare of loudspeakers in the streets. After half an hour of exercise in the open air, there is tremendous emphasis on physical fitness—they go off to the canteens for a communal breakfast.

Then they break up to form different production teams based on the individual's ability and aptitude for work. Husbands and wives, parents and grown-up children are not necessarily on the same team.

The teams go off to their allotted tasks in the fields and factories. They reassemble at noon in the various canteens for a simple lunch of rice, cabbage and occasionally a bit of meat. Lunch over, they march off again to their appointed tasks.

Next: The 16 guarantees.

STEEL INDUSTRY — A line of crude iron smelters are tended by men and women workers at the Chuli Yin People's Commune located about 80 miles north of Chingchow in Honan Province. Steel making is becoming a cottage industry in this and other communes.

Railroad Feather-Bedding Cost High

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Feather-bedding—make-work schemes—cost the nation's railroads upward of a half billion dollars a year.

This is an estimate of a railroad expert and it comes as the time draws near for the end of the moratorium on making railroad rule changes.

And that means the railroads are preparing to do something about increasing productivity of their labor, a move that could bring an eruption in railroad operation. In the point of a nationwide strike that might make the steel strike—if it comes July 1—look pretty tame.

The rail expert in this story is James R. Sullivan, a college graduate with a master's degree, who has held such jobs as locomotive fireman and engineer, fuel engineer and train master.

He is writing his views on this plague of the railroads in the forthcoming issue of the Analysts Journal, publication of the National Federation of Financial Analysts Societies.

Railroads are of major interest in Wall Street where the railroad shares haven't been able to match the strength of the industrial stocks because of their earnings difficulties.

The Analysts Journal thinks this problem is of sufficient importance to make the Sullivan analysis its leading article of the coming issue.

Sullivan, who presently is a vice president (personnel) and assistant to the President of the Minneapolis and St. Louis Railway Co., lists the five major elements of featherbedding and the cost of each per year as follows:

—Diesel firemen in freight cars, 200-million dollars.

—The "archaic" 100 miles equals a day's pay rule, 150-million dollars.

—The iron-clad separation of road and yard service which generally forbids crews of one piece lunch of rice, cabbage and craft to do work within the rigidly defined bailiwick of another.

—Unnecessary crew changes en route at terminals, established many years ago in the 15 mile an hour locomotive era, 50-million dollars.

—Roadway machine pilots and other excess and unproductive members of certain train and yard crews, 16 and one-half million dollars.

These five add up to a total annually of $476,500,000.

"When only five featured elements produce a total of this size," says Sullivan, "it is spectacularly as Northwestern Bell."

"To the rank and file railroadman power in the railways is or the benefits of doing so would be enormous in terms of higher astronomical."

If you take Sullivan's figure for wages, greater job security, and these five items and add it to the 1958 preliminary net income figure for all class one railroads, you get a total of more than a billion dollars.

Railroads of the nation never earned that much. The nearest they ever came to it was in 1955 when net income of the Class One railroads was $927,100,000. Last year the estimate is $902,000,000, an aggregate of $438,200,000.

As Sullivan presents the feather-bedding case, elimination of that whole new golden age of railroad-making system is the one solution for restoring the railroads to vigorous competitive health.

He cites as an example of union cooperation with management in mechanization the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. This company has automated many of its functions.

Pothluck Supper Turns Gourmet

NEW - FASHIONED DESSERT: Halved peaches, warmed in a skillet over low heat and topped by lime-laced whipped cream, make a delicious surprise dessert for those unexpected supper guests.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Unexpected guests, maybe from out of town. Impulsively you ask them to stay for supper. How to make a strictly-for-the-family menu more than run-of-the-mill? It's meatloaf night. But who says you can't run up a quick mushroom sauce to give the loaf a fillip? Here's our speedy way.

Peel small onions; quarter and slice lengthwise into the thinnest of strips; turn into a skillet with butter to wilt slowly until golden; add a can of drained mushrooms—chopped, sliced, whole caps, or whatever bounty is in your kitchen shelves. Douse with heavy cream or sprinkle lightly with flour and stir in milk. Add salt and pungent cracked or freshly-ground pepper.

Serve baked potatoes, just as you probably planned for the family—but with a difference. Choose small or medium ones and pare, then cut into lengthwise halves or quarters. Melt butter in the baking pan, and roll the potatoes in it; sprinkle them with cream sauce lightly flavored with salt and paprika. Now into the oven, and to baste once in a while. When their innards are soft, their outside crisp and ruddy, they're ready. Call them French conio. What's in a name? Plenty when potatoes taste this good.

Take your pick of go-along vegetables from the freezer. Add whole pitted black olives and generous swatches of crisscrossed tomato, maybe some anchovies, to those ubiquitous tossed greens. It's a salad that helps turn an everyday meal into a memorable supper.

Now for dessert. That's where we new-fashioned cooks have it all over our grandmothers. They probably said, "Open a can of cling peaches; bring out the cookie jar."

We're still likely to choose peaches but we wouldn't dream of offering them plain; our mind is set on adding delectable flavor, delicious surprise. There are so many change-overs you can make, in no time at all, with a can or two of the fruit.

An even way first. This is no secret; but it takes a long time for a recipe to get around. We keep having guests who taste these at our house for the first time and are won over. The latest convert a Canadian cousin, visiting in New York. Spoon a fine brandied mince into the cling-peach half cavities; shove them into a moderate oven to heat through in about 15 minutes. Top with a scoop of vanilla ice cream and rush to the table. The ice cream melts lovingly over the fruit, and everyone laps up this divine combination of flavors.

Now to the skillet or chafing dish and a spanking-new recipe. Buy, beg, borrow or send for fresh lime for the topping; its flavor in this dessert is that good.

Taste Buddies: Steak And French Fries

If you ask for fried potatoes in France, you may end by eating potato croquettes. Or hollow crisp potato trifles that look like miniature balloons and whose exact name is pomme de terre soufflé. What we call French-fried potatoes, the French name pommes de terre Pont Neuf.

Meanwhile, in this country French fries — rather narrow potato strips that have been deep-fat fried — are getting brisk circulation. That's because nowadays they are widely available in frozen form. For a quick change-over, you can turn these frozen French fries into potatoes O'Brien.

If you do this you'll be going back to the original way potatoes O'Brien were made — many modern recipes notwithstanding. We know, we know! Current rules suggest using diced boiled potatoes for the O'Briens. But no less an authority than Filippini — noted chef of New York's turn-of-the-century Delmonico restaurant — wrote that the first step in preparing the O'Brien dish was to deep-fat fry the potatoes. Here's exactly what he said:

"Cut four good-sized, well-washed, peeled sound potatoes into one-third-inch-square pieces, wash again and drain. Plunge in boiling fat and fry for ten minutes, lift up, drain well, place them in a frying pan with one tablespoon melted butter. Three sweet red peppers, cut in small squares and half teaspoon salt, lightly brown for ten minutes, frequently tossing meanwhile, pour into a hot dish and serve."

Here's how we use the Filippini recipe with a short-cut method. Cut a 9-ounce package of frozen (unthawed) French-fried potatoes crosswise into one-half-inch pieces. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a heavy 9-inch skillet; add the potatoes and stir a few minutes over high heat. Add a couple of diced drained canned mushrooms; turn heat low and brown potatoes thoroughly so some of the tidbits crisp. Turn them over with a pancake turner or wide spatula. Just before serving with steak to three will be, eaters, we sprinkle the potatoes with half a teaspoon of salt, but you may not care for quite so much seasoning.

FELLOW TRAVELERS: Like ham and eggs, steak and French fries just naturally go together. And because they are so easily prepared, frozen French fries are gaining in popularity. Just for a change, you might wish to convert the French fries into potatoes O'Brien.

If you are not a purist, you may saute a little sliced onion in the butter before you add the frozen potatoes and still call the dish O'Brien. After all, Fanny Farmer does. Other modern recipes suggest adding diced green pepper as well as the onion and pimiento.

Chill candles in the refrigerator for 24 hours before using. They will burn evenly and will not drip.

Dress Up Hash With Sauce

Corned beef hash need not be just an ordinary dish. Dress it up with this pickle relish sauce, bake it until golden brown, and you'll have a casserole pretty enough for guests.

Spread one 1-pound can corned beef hash evenly over the bottom of a greased 1-quart casserole. Beat 1 egg yolk slightly and combine with 1 cup mayonnaise and 1 cup sweet pickle relish. Beat egg white until stiff. Fold the egg white into the pickle relish mixture. Pour over hash in casserole. Bake uncovered, in a moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit), 15 minutes or until pickle topping is golden brown. Makes four servings.

Stud a ham with maraschino cherries on whole cloves. Use the cherry juice to baste the ham during cooking.

Harvard Beets Served With French Accent

Few vegetables survive time, tide and transportation. Beets are one of those few. Beets in a sweet-sour orange sauce make an excellent accompaniment to roast pork or duck.

To serve 6 use 2 cups of cooked beets or a No. 2 can of shoe-string-cut, diced or sliced beets, whatever your pleasure, and serve with this sauce. In the top of a double boiler combine 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons cornstarch, mixing well. Add 3/4 cup orange juice, 1/4 cup lemon juice and 1 tablespoon butter and cook 5 minutes or until thick. Add the drained beets and heat.

Oatmeal Cheese Muffins Special

Call this recipe for Oatmeal Cheese Muffins "something special" because it is the "special" recipe that appeals, in these days, to the home-baker. The added touches that make this muffin unique are the caraway seeds and cubed cheese. The recipe becomes, therefore, one that truly reflects the creative ability of the home-baker, and appeals to the taste and appetite of those who will enjoy these muffins. It goes without saying that real pride and pleasure are the rewards that come to the thoughtful baker of this unusual recipe.

Yield: 12 muffins.
3/4 cup sifted all purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons shortening
3/4 cup uncooked rolled oats
1/2 teaspoon caraway seed
1 egg
3/4 cup milk
1 1/2-inch cubes cheddar cheese
Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar into a mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture is fine. Blend in oats and caraway seed. Beat egg and milk together. Add to dry ingredients all at once; stir until flour mixture is just dampened. Do not over mix. Place a heaping tablespoon of batter in each of 12 greased 2 1/2-inch muffin cups. Place one cube of cheese in each muffin cup. Fill muffin cups 3/4 full of batter. Bake in a 425 degree F. (hot) oven about 20 minutes. Serve hot.

Mashed Potato, Salmon Patties

Prepare enough extra mashed potatoes so you have two cups; mix them with a can (about 7 ounces) of drained salmon, a slightly beaten egg, finely grated onion, salt and pepper.

Shape into patties and fry until heated through and golden brown in a little butter or margarine.

Appetizers Are Tasty, Colorful

APPETIZERS like these always win favor because they are low in calories and add color to your table. With a knife, an assortment of vegetables, cheese and hardly any trouble, you can prepare an attractive dish like this.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Something worthwhile: Prepare an attractive assortment of vegetable appetizers. They're popular these days because most of these tidbits are low in calories and their crisp texture, flavor and color add zest.

You don't feel like taking time to carve radish roses? We think radish accordions are just as attractive and so quick to fix. Leave some of the pretty short green tops on the radishes but cut off the root ends; wash in cold water and drain. Then just slice each radish crosswise into strips, but not all the way through. Chill in icy cold water in the refrigerator and the slices will open like an accordion.

Some of the most attractive fresh vegetable appetizers are made with carrots. One we've been fixing for years, yet there are always some guests to whom the trick is new, and old friends continue to be charmed by these bright trifles. Scoop out the center of a large carrot, or use the top part of a medium-sized one. If you use the point of a swivel-blade vegetable peeler for the scooping, the carrot center comes out easily. Then slice the hollowed-out carrot into rings and draw a few short sprigs of watercress through each; chill until serving time. The touch of green against the orange is beguiling, and the combination tastes refreshing.

Or after you have scooped out the carrot, stuff the center with plain or seasoned cream cheese.

tage-cheese mixture and another with a sophisticated Camembert and cream-cheese combination. Camembert, you'll find, adds piquancy to the other bland cheese.

FINGER SPARERIBS

Ingredients: 3 pounds sparerib racks, 1/4 cup dark molasses, 1/4 cup prepared mustard, 3 tablespoons garlic-flavored wine vinegar, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon tobacco sauce, 1/4 teaspoon brown bottled gravy sauce.

Method: Have meatman cut sparerib racks lengthwise into strips that are 2 inches wide. With kitchen scissors, cut rack strips into individual ribs. Place ribs in shallow roasting pan. Mix molasses and mustard thoroughly; stir in vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, paprika, tobacco sauce and brown gravy sauce. Spread spareribs with sauce. Roast in a moderate (350 degrees) oven, spreading ribs often with sauce for 1 1/2 hours. Drain on paper towels or brown paper and serve in chafing dish or other container that can be kept hot.

Makes 12 servings. Note: These may be prepared ahead, wrapped in aluminum foil and frozen or refrigerated until ready to use. To reheat, place foil wrapped package in shallow pan; open foil. Brush with additional sauce. If frozen, spareribs will need 1 hour at 325 degrees; if refrigerated, reheat for 35 to 40 minutes at 325 degrees.

Braised Pork Tenderloin

In the English language, the word "bacon" was formerly applied to all meat from the pig, of any part whether fresh, salted or smoked.

The tenderloin of pork, like the tenderloin of beef, is the most delicate and lean part of the animal. You'll especially enjoy this Braised Pork Tenderloin in a sour cream sauce.

To serve 4 purchase 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of pork tenderloin. Slice crosswise in 1 1/2-inch slices, flatten with potato masher and roll in flour. Place in hot frying pan with 2 tablespoons melted butter and 1 medium chopped onion; add salt and pepper to taste and 1/4 teaspoon sage. Let brown, then turn down heat and cover well. Baste with 1/4 cup sour cream and let cook 30 minutes per pound, or until tender.

Peach Shortcake

Just because the strawberry season has passed is no reason to stop enjoying shortcake for dessert. Golden peaches with blushing cheeks make the tastiest shortcake during these Indian summer months. Try an old-fashioned Peach Shortcake today using your favorite pancake mix.

You'll delight in this recipe because it's so much like the one grandma used to bake. In her day, you will remember, she had to do without the convenience of pancake mix to save her time. Cut the shortcake into generous squares and split. Spoon sweetened peach slices between and on top and serve with a scoop of vanilla ice cream or a dollop of whipped cream. Old-fashioned Peach Shortcake can be enjoyed the year around if frozen peaches are used when the others are not available.

Peach Shortcake
Makes 8 servings
Shortcake: 2 cups pancake mix, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/3 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup milk. Sweetened fresh or frozen peaches, Vanilla ice cream.

Heat oven to hot (425°F.). For the shortcake, mix together pancake mix and sugar; cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk, stirring lightly only until mixture is dampened. (Add a little more milk if necessary to make a soft dough.) Pat dough evenly into a 7 x 11-inch pan. Bake in preheated oven (425°F.) 15 to 20 minutes. To serve, cut shortcake into 8 pieces. Split each piece in half; serve sandwich style with peaches between and on top of shortcake. Garnish with a scoop of ice cream.

Handy Shrimp Plays Many Roles

SHRIMP PIE is a natural for a Lenten meal. Made with shrimp and cheese custard in a pastry shell, it can be served as a first course

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
No wonder Americans favor shrimp. This seafood has qualities this country admires. It's enterprising and versatile.

Shrimp goes everywhere. You find it in the best houses, at lunch or supper, for family fare or company festivity.

So many roles these succulent pink morsels are ready to play. Want a curtain raiser? Then your audience will applaud shelled raw shrimp cooked in electric skillet or chafing dish in garlic-flavored butter. Or shrimp paste — a Southern spread for crackers or least of finely chopped shrimp, butter and seasonings. Or shrimp Lorenzo — cold cooked shelled shrimp with mayonnaise enriched by oodles of chopped watercress and chili sauce. Nor will eaters turn down shrimp with a regular tomato cocktail sauce, no matter how omnipresent that dish.

And here's something you may not yet have tried: Start off a supper party by bringing in a huge bowl of small-size shrimps that have been cooked and drained, plus a dunk. The guests do the work of shucking their own portions and by the time elbows are deep in shells, formality has flown out the window everyone's gobbling up the seafood with abandon, and the collocation is off to a spirited start. If you are a cook in the know, you'll pay heed to that first lady of present-day American cookery, Irma Rombauer. Read, in her great "Joy of Cooking," her few succinct sentences under the directions for boiling shrimp: "Use the water for soup. Usually good as is with a dash of cream added." We've been doing this ever since Irma's good advice came to our attention: but we haven't to add that spices are added while the shrimp and water simmer to make a flavorful court-bouillon.

A most delicious way to use shrimp is, in a hearty cheese custard bedded down in a pastry shell. This dish is similar to the French Quiche. Serve the pie in small wedges as a first course with pre-luncheon or dinner drinks. Or offer it in large pieces with a crisp green salad as a main course for lunch or supper.

Shrimp and Cheese Pie
Ingredients: 1 pound shrimp (fresh or frozen), ¼ package (6 ounces) Gruyere cheese (grated), 1 package (1½ cups) flour, 3 eggs, 1 cup light cream, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ¼ teaspoon unbaked pastry shell.
Method: Clean and devein shrimp; cut in small pieces; toss with Swiss and Gruyere cheese and flour. Beat together until just blended the eggs, cream, salt, a dash of pepper, mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Spread the cheese mixture in the pastry shell. Add shrimp and cover with remaining cheese. Pour egg mixture over cheese and shrimp. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 15 minutes; turn over heat to slow (325 degrees) and continue baking 30 to 40 minutes, or until silver knife inserted halfway between edge and center comes out clean. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Serve warm. Makes 8 to 10 appetizer servings, 6 luncheon or supper servings.

Here's A Tasty Family Supper

Normandy Pork Chops and Kraut
Potatoes
Green Peas
Salad
Bread Tray
Frosted Cake
Beverage

Ingredients: 4 loin pork chops (about ¾ inch thick), 1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut, 1 sweet cooking apple (pared and cored and sliced thin), 2 tablespoons sugar, ¼ teaspoon onion powder, ½ cup apple cider, salt, pepper.
Method: Cut off all but a thin layer of fat from around chops. Grease a very hot heavy skillet with a bit of the fat; add chops and brown rapidly on both sides; hold with fork to brown edges. Meanwhile turn sauerkraut into strainer to drain thoroughly; mix drained kraut with apple, sugar and onion powder, then apple cider. Turn into baking dish (1½ to 2 quarts). Arrange browned chops in one layer over kraut mixture; sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. Cover tightly and bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until tender. This will take from 30 minutes to 1 hour, depending on how much chops were cooked during browning and their thickness. In serving, lift chops to individual plates, then mix kraut with juices in baking dish before spooning out. Makes 4 servings.

Life Story Of A Shrimp

The life story of a shrimp begins in the spring or summer, when spawning takes place in offshore waters. The eggs, mere specks of living matter, are discharged by the female and probably remain near the ocean bottom until hatched. This habit of the shrimp is entirely different from that of the closely related crabs and lobsters, in which the females carry the eggs on the abdominal appendages until they hatch.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Competition

WE CAN NOW congratulate ourselves, if we want, on the collapse of the Russian-Iranian economic aid talks in a shower of mutual recriminations. But the mere fact the effort was made has its disconcerting aspects for us. For one thing, Iran, with a long frontier common to the Soviet Union, is a key member of the Baghdad Pact designed to give the free world a Near East bulwark against Russian communism. Another member, Iraq, already has for all practical purposes pulled out. Closer Soviet-Iranian economic ties, should they ever develop, could lead to political developments that might weaken the Middle East defense as seriously. The Iranians know they are highly vulnerable to Soviet attack and subversion. Only the strongest continuing assurances from the United States are likely to keep the damper on Iran's quite natural fears.

BUT THIS WHOLE episode is disturbing for other reasons. We are all thoroughly familiar with Russia's constant attempts to make trade and aid deals with countries both near to and far from its borders. A good many nations have signed pacts, only to discover that there can be a deep abyss between Soviet promises and Soviet delivery. Over the years we have come to assume rather smugly that Russia will inevitably fail to deliver, that we as the only fair-dealing traders in this huge competitive struggle will always have the advantage. Yet the facts must cast grave doubt on these assumptions. Even if we discount heavily Russia's claim it will match us economically by 1970, we can be pretty sure its gains will be very substantial.

THE HIGHER UP the economic scale the Soviet Union climbs, the more frequently and the more easily will it be able to fulfill trade and aid commitments to other nations around the globe. The abyss may one day virtually disappear. That prospect is one phase of Russia's steady economic advance which we will ignore at our peril. For we can be certain the Kremlin will not ease up on its economic warfare just when it finally is acquiring the weapons to fight it with something more than false promises. If we're going to meet this competition successfully, we ourselves had better devise more effective weapons than simply happy sighs of relief that an occasional Soviet trade negotiation falls through the way the deal with Iran did. The Kremlin's traveling salesmen are tough, and getting tougher every day.

How About 1959?

PEEKING INTO the electronic future has become a favorite indoor sport. Some of the peeks are quite intriguing. This was the case when Robert W. Sarnoff, NBC's board chairman, recently told about what television may be like a decade hence. Sarnoff envisions a great proliferation of TV sets in public places and for personal use—at the beach, in trains, in factories. He also foresees television screens that can be used, too, for showing home movies taken on the family videotape recorder. By 1969, Sarnoff believes, audiences will see live TV from everywhere—"auto races in Monte Carlo, bullfights in Madrid or a music festival in Edinburgh." It all sounds dandy. In the meantime, wouldn't it be fine if broadcasters would concentrate a bit more on using their wonderful medium to provide more adult entertainment and discussion?

Pigeon Enterprise

THE PIGEONS of Brazil, says the Brazilian singer and actress Rosina Pagan, stay in the parks and mind their business. They do not fly up to apartment window sills and make off with diamond rings left on the sill while one polishes one's finger nails. But this, says Miss Pagan, is precisely what one of those ill-mannered New York City pigeons did. Instead of tending to the pigeon equivalent of its knitting, down there in the park with the other pigeons, the enterprising bird flew away with Miss Pagan's ring in its beak. She values the ring at $7,000. Said the lady from Brazil, "I'm going to sue the city—I'm going to sue somebody." Maybe she should sue the pigeon. Or maybe she should provide it with a year's supply of corn. After all, think of the publicity that pigeon brought!

Demos Get Dirksen Into Tight Corner

WASHINGTON — The Honorable Everett M. Dirksen, newly-elected Senate Republican leader, has sent a slightly belated Valentine to the President who supported him for the post against the opposition of the erstwhile Eisenhower Republicans. It was signed, "Little Spender."

Dirksen led off on allegations by Democrats that in truth and fact the President has been the big spender and the Democratic Congress is an economizer.

For months the Democrats had taken in silence charges by the President that theirs is a party of wild extravagance. In speeches by Senate and House leaders Lyndon Johnson and John McCormack, the worm finally turned. These speeches purported to show that in actuality Congress had cut five billion dollars from the President's budget.

ACCORDING to Republicans, the President was slung by the Johnson-McCormack switch on his arguments. At his weekly meetings with GOP leaders from the Hill, he indicated his feeling that Republicans in Congress should reply. The dutiful Dirksen responded in several thousand eloquent words, plus a collection of charts handed to him by the Bureau of the Budget.

Forewarned of the Dirksen project, a baker's dozen of experienced Democratic hecklers, led by Johnson himself, took to the floor while most Republicans scurried to the cloakrooms. The result provided a merry hour for a capital all too normally freighted with gloom.

Figures notoriously are prone to lie and hairs to figure. In the case of anything as big as the ten-pound budget, the temptation to employ the huge figures for partisan effect is well nigh irresistible.

DIRKSEN, a natural-born debater who has repeatedly proved that he can be convincing on both sides of most questions, did an expert job with very little help from his cohorts. However, he was up against other experts as Senators Johnson, Mike Mansfield and John Sparkman. All had served with him in both House and Senate and knew his gambits.

In the final confusion of charges and countercharges, Dirksen was betrayed into saying, "I have given you the figures, the defense rests." This was, of course, the position into which the Democrats aimed to put him. Realizing his mistake, he cried hastily, "No, no, defense is the wrong word. We need no defense."

The fact is — and all the debaters knew it — that they were playing a game of tag with the budget to see who could pin the big-spender label on the other. All recognize that the budget will be big, it will be unbalanced and there will be another big deficit.

NEITHER party is making a genuine, sustained and consistent effort to have it otherwise. Nobody in Washington, from the President down, is setting an example of the kind of austerity which would at least help to dissipate the aura of cynicism which hangs over the whole situation.

Ike's Farm Headache May Get Chronic

WASHINGTON (NEA)—To get a line on what's happening in Congressional hawking so far this year, it may be useful to recall a parallel situation on farm legislation last year.

President Eisenhower sent a farm message to Congress in January, 1958, recommending lower, flexible price supports.

To show him who was boss around here, Congress passed a bill freezing all price supports. The President promptly vetoed it and that was the last heard of that idea.

The House Agriculture Committee then cooked up what Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson called a "legislative monstrosity." It was a bill so bad that even the House couldn't stomach it. They killed it in June.

Finally, in August, Congress passed a farm bill reducing corn price supports on the 1959 crop. Rice and cotton supports were set for a cut in 1962. This didn't go whole hog with the Eisenhower-Benson plan, but it was their victory.

This year the President and secretary have just made a similar pitch to Congress. One thing they ask for specifically is an end to incentives for overproduction of wheat by basing support prices on market averages instead of on the old fixed parity principle.

DEMOCRATIC House members promptly told the secretary they would not accept the administration program.

This is in line with Democratic reaction to other administration proposals on housing, airport construction, urban renewal, aid to depressed areas and aid to education.

The Democrats' position is that they won the election, they control the majorities, they'll dictate programs. But this Democratic position is weakening already. Stung by administration charges of reckless spending, the Senate Democrats cut their airport and housing bills by 100 to 150 million dollars. The Eisenhower administration welcomes these cuts but says they are not big enough in the interests of economy, what's needed by the country or by good government.

IF PRESIDENT Eisenhower had item veto on appropriation bills—which he has repeatedly requested but which Congress has consistently refused—excessive spending might be controlled. Lacking that power, all the President can do is hold out the threat of vetoing entire bills.

The Democratic reply that if the President resorts to this, they will balance his budget for him by cutting off his foreign aid program, is taken by Republicans as pretty small politics. As the President told his last press conference, that would be "statesmanship of a very low order." This puts it as politely as possible.

The political probabilities are that in the next few months a lot of these extreme positions on both sides will be whittled down to better shape.

That is what happened on the Democratic farm program last year. It is what will likely happen to the Democratic farm and other programs this year. By the end of a session, common sense usually prevails.

SECRETARY Benson points out that it does not make sense to go on paying high price supports on wheat. The prospect is that at present price support levels, the U. S. government will own 1½ billion bushels of surplus wheat—a full year's extra supply—by July 1, 1960. It will have cost the taxpayers 3½ billion dollars.

Glancing Sideways

MILWAUKEE—It is one of the great commentaries on our American civilization that you can board a plane bound for almost anywhere in the United States, east to west, north to south, arrive in even a raging blizzard and find actors at work acting.

They may be amateurs who have put together a community group, college students on a campus, professionals in winter stock or professionals on tour—but they will be acting.

The plane from New York touched down on a frozen, icy runway, its jets murmuring and chucking quietly, sped across the coated paving and came to a braked halt in front of Milwaukee's fantastically beautiful and opulent main airport building.

Another jet was bubbling on the runway, ready to close its doors and streak for New York in advance of a howling snowstorm. John Beal came out, bound home after two weeks in winter stock here, we passed a few hasty words and he boarded his plane.

I WENT IN, retrieved my luggage and was soon in a cab which slithered and shuddered through the six inches of snow on the roads. Once inside town, the going was better as plows shaved the streets clean. We passed the old Pabst Theatre and there the lights winked in the snow: "Look Back in Anger," with Pipa Scott and Donald Harron, the company touring under Theatre Guild subscription auspices.

Pippa is Allan Scott's daughter, of Los Angeles and drama school, has had two plays on Broadway, both failures. But, undaunted, she is out touring the winter circuit. Her last show, on Broadway was "Miss Lonelyhearts" and her debut on Broadway was as the lead in Henry James' play — "Child Of Fortune" — about an American heiress. James was fascinated by the theme, since he did this one and Portrait Of A Lady.

THE CAB lurched on through the snow and presently we passed the Fred Miller Theatre, a memorial to the brewing heir who did so much to assemble the $100,000 used to convert an old film theatre into what is probably the most modern and best-equipped winter stock arena theatre in the United States.

Milwaukee has many families of industrial and brewing wealth and they are lovers of theatre. But the Fred Miller Theatre does not only attract wealthy patrons. People of all economic levels go to it week after week after week, a rapid, willing, interested and constant audience.

It puts on the best plays of Broadway, engages one lead — man or woman, — as he may be — from Broadway and the professional resident company fills out the other roles. They have finished with "Visit to a Small Planet" and Horton Foote's play, "The Chase" — this one starring John Beal — and now are doing "The Country Girl," starring an actress who shall be nameless, but I'll be glad when she comes home.

After that come "My Three Angels" with John Carradine, and then Vicki Cummings in a new play never before seen anywhere but which has a chance for eventual Broadway presentation.

YOU TAKE YOUR bride to Frenchy's after theatre for steaks and beer. Milwaukee beer, and twice groups of six at larger tables come over to say that they, too, albeit amateurs, are rehearsing for plays to be done in their community theatres in March.

Milwaukee is a city strong for theatre, it believes in and supports theatre, a testimony to its essentially German background. Germans love theatre and the Germans who came the long way from Berlin and Bavaria to Milwaukee generations back brought their love intact with them.

The other large racial group here is Polish, and the Poles own to a passionate love for theatre. TV gets short shrift here and it is reflected in the basically corny, hillbilly kind of programs which originate here. But theatre is something else — something cultural and beloved.

ST. CROIX, V. I.—"The trouble with the average woman golfer," said Elmer Voight, the first, best and only golf pro in the Virgin Islands, "is she is too lazy. She just won't move the club fast enough."

"The trouble with the average male golfer," he's too tense. Insistent on bashing the ball. He's so anxious to hit the ball that he can't relax."

Having purged himself of his theories on what makes duffers of us all—too much ennuï among women, not enough among men—Elmer leaned forward and really put his cleats down.

"THE SWING IS the thing, of course," he said, "To turn and untuck like a spinning top. From the waist down, be firm; and from the waist up, free-wheel and let yourself go."

"The good professionals spend hours just swinging from the body, turn and untuck, not caring where the ball is going. The result is they can close their eyes and hit a perfect golf shot over and over again."

VOIGHT has been a golf coach for 30 years, at "Sunningdale Country Club" in Seaside by summer, and here at "Estate Carlton," the Virgin Islands' combination country club-hotel, by winter.

He says that the great majority of golfers who take up the game for fun and relaxation and up' being more frustrated and tense on the course than in their offices.

"To many men, every golf game is as intense as a business deal. Only in this case, they're not only fighting the competition, they're fighting themselves. It is definitely the most mental game in the world."

So They Say

By one electronics development or another, worldwide television can be a reality within a generation—perhaps within 10 years.—Edmond H. Leavey, president of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp.

I'm sick of roles as a handsome-looking idiot. I would want to play an idiot, but one with problems.—Actor Fernando Lamas, rejecting "Latin lover" label.

We need Hawaii as an equal partner as much as Hawaii needs statehood. (1) will prove to the world—and particularly to Asia—that we practice what we preach.—Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton.

Unfortunately, the United States has created bases all around the Soviet Union. Their planes are flying around with atomic bombs. Someone may lose his head. Anything may happen.—Nikita Khrushchev.

We must take into account the objective facts. Capitalism will continue so long as the people of the country involved will support or tolerate that system.—Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan.

Lots of people never amount to anything because there are too many ways not to.

IN THIS regard, the dapper Elmer admitted that in professional as well as amateur circles, "some of the best rounds of golf are played with hangers on. In fact, the game of golf unfortunately has considerably swelled the number of alcoholics in the United States."

THIS LOVELY island, where the golf course is swept gently by trade winds and the players spiritually uplifted by bougainvillea and hibiscus, would seem the ideal place to relax over a blissful round. But even here, according to the pro, the fighting instinct of the golfer rises to the fore as he reaches the number one tee.

"They are passive at the pool, passive on the beach, passive at the bar and the dining table. Get them to the course, and the old mental pictures come back. They grip the club like it might get away from them."

AUSTIN, Tex.—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), on being invited with other Texas national legislators to accompany President Eisenhower on a trip to Mexico.

"The President was very considerate to invite us, and he always is considerate of senators and representatives in this way when he is going into their home territories."

SAN JUAN, P. R.—George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, proposing a shorter work week: "We have got to turn our attention directly toward a shorter work week. Now is the time."

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — A popular parlor game today is, "If you had it all to do again, what would you do different?"

A hostess who poses this question at a party of middle-aged guests never has to worry about conversation the rest of the evening. Her only problem is to keep her rug from being flooded with the tears of what-might-have-been.

We were asked at a recent party how we would like to relive our life, and we remained silent, because our first impulse was to throw up.

Since then, however, we have been brooding over the question, and have decided a second ride on the merry-go-round might be worthwhile—if we could arrange certain changes.

WE WOULD choose to be born dumber and richer. We are somewhat weary of having an IQ higher than our bank account. Common sense is the curse of the poor and sensible. Next time we'd like to be wealthy and insensible.

We would start wearing bigger shoes and looser collars earlier in life. Most of our mistakes in judgment came from a cramped mind—the result of wearing shoes half a size too short and a shirt collar half a size too tight.

We would go into business for ourselves instead of working for others. A series of sharp quick bankruptcies is better than lifelong serfdom.

We would have more children—oodles of them. It is more comfortable to be old than young, and nothing ages you faster than children.

We would learn to ride a horse. In our set—the subway set—a man who can ride a horse stands out like a pimple on the face of the Mona Lisa.

WE WOULD FAIL in love only with red-haired women. In this life we have fallen in love only with blondes and brunettes, and felt vaguely cheated. We've never heard of a man who ran away from a red-haired woman.

We're going to spend our money as fast as we make it. We have found in this life that the more money we had in the bank, the more scared we were that some Communist—or tax collector—would come along and take it away from us, and we are tired of being a coward.

Oh, we're going to dance all day, and sing all night by the light of the moon. We're going to taste every food, try every wine, climb every balcony possible until our arteries harden.

Then we're going to lie down and die, cheerful and happy, and leave our brain to Harvard. There may not be much of it left, but whatever there is Harvard can have it!

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—The National Federation of Republican Women held a national board meeting in Charlotte, N. C., the other day. The great ladies of the GOP invaded the Southland and planned strategy for making inroads upon the entrenched Democrats.

The delegation from Washington and vicinity was headed by Mrs. Peggy Burdick, national program chairman, a lady with a robust sense of humor. Mrs. Burdick had an experience which will probably make her erupt into laughter for weeks to come.

She said the GOP grande dames were assembled in the convention auditorium of Holiday Inn, plotting the campaign against the forces of darkness—still meaning the Democrats—when the toastmistress interrupted, saying she had to make an important announcement.

The toastmistress waited until she had expectant silence, then in her best club president voice, announced:

"The bus will be in front of the hotel at six o'clock. We expect to have you loaded by six-thirty."

THURMAN Arnold, the old trust buster of the Justice Department back in the FDR days, is a gentleman with a keen philosophical, as well as legal, mind. He has just presented me with a nice problem in philosophy in this letter:

"Dear George: I seek your advice. Early this week I was at my favorite hotel, the Biltmore, in New York. I ordered for breakfast grapefruit, eggs and coffee. The waiter inquired 'toast?' I replied 'no toast.' The combination of two eggs, grapefruit and coffee was listed on the regular breakfast for $1.70.

"When my check came it was for $1.80. I called the waiter and asked the reason. He said, 'You ordered a la carte.' I said 'I thought I was ordering the regular breakfast.' He said 'No, the regular breakfast has toast on it and you didn't want any toast.'"

"To my legally trained mind this reasoning appeared so eminently sound that I accepted it without protest. However, the next morning I was careful to order toast. The waiter brought it and took it away untouched. The check was for $1.70.

"Legally my position, I think, is unassailable. But an ethical problem arises. Is it fair to the Biltmore, my favorite hotel, to make them process, convey and return to the kitchen toast which I have no desire to eat just to save me 10 cents? Wouldn't it be the meanly thing to send 10 cents to the Biltmore and an additional 10 cents to their trouble in preparing the toast which I did not want? The question troubles me. I turn to you because, as a moral philosopher, no one has been your equal since Confucius."

I AM INFORMED that in my zeal to align myself with the frugality program of President Eisenhower I committed a sympathetic blunder. I bargain-vated Mamie's frugality retreat at Elizabeth Arden's Arizona beauty ranch.

I reported that the cottage occupied by Mrs. Eisenhower and her sister, Mrs. G. Gordon Moore, rents for a nominal $400 to $700 a week. I am notified that it rents for a minimum of $1,200 a week.

I do not like to make retractions any more than the next fellow, but in this case I feel I must. It would be manifestly unfair to leave the impression with you that the First Lady is practicing frugality on a small scale.

SENATOR HARTKE, freshman Democrat from Indiana, illustrates his first newsletter with a montage of pictures in which he is posing variously with three of his party's presidential hopefuls—Senators Johnson, of Texas; Humphrey, of Minnesota, and Kennedy of Massachusetts.

This raises the interesting speculation: has Hartke narrowed his choices to three, or wouldn't Senator Symington, of Missouri, pass?

SHORTAGE OF ICE—Dr. W. W. Davis, superintendent of Mt. Lake Park, informs the Times he has fears of an ice famine this year because unseasonable thaws have rendered what little ice there is unfit for harvesting. The ice harvest is one of the major industries of the community.

ORDERS NEW ENGINES—The Western Maryland Railway places orders for 17 new engines. The order includes 10 of the large 600 series, five passenger engines and two "pushers."

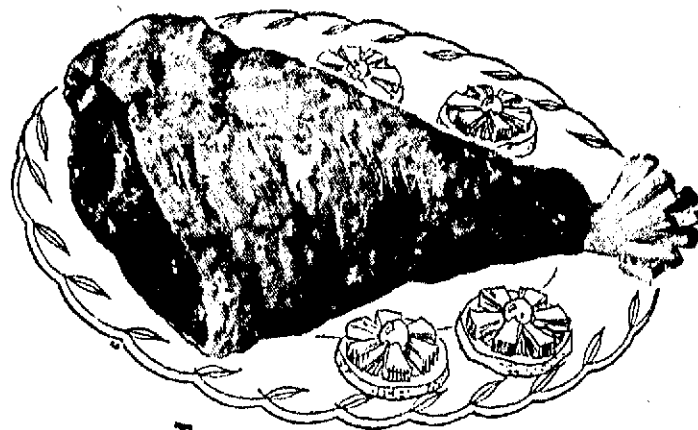

B&O RETRENCHMENT—The appropriation for work at the B&O shops here is running low with the result that a number of employees have been placed on an eight-hour working basis four days a week. The policy of retrenchment was made to avoid furloughing any men.

Glass Will Roll At PPG Unit Tonight

Most Of Hourly Workers Back On Job In Cumberland

Works 7 of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company is expected to be rolling glass tonight, it was reported today.

Five hundred fifty of the 571 hourly paid employees have been called back to their jobs and all will be back by the first of next week.

Plant officials have been making every possible effort to get the North Branch plant back into production following the end of the four-month long strike of all PPG plants.

The grinding and polishing rooms together with the warehousing or shipping department must be put into shape before full production can be achieved. Some glass that has been stored in the warehouse has been shipped this week to customers. The start of actual production and shipping is still tenuous, however, and the picture changes from hour to hour, a company spokesman said.

The company is offering $100 loans to those employees desiring them to tide them over until the first pay day.

This money will be returned a small amount at a time after two pay periods have gone by.

The huge melting tank at the North Branch plant was kept hot during the long strike and the long time that is usually required to heat a cold tank will not be necessary.

Brotherhood Again Names Van Parsons

Van H. Parsons, 427 Cumberland Street, has been re-elected to his third four-year term as general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen members on the Western Maryland Railway.

His jurisdiction as chief bargaining agent on wages and working conditions covers 600 conductors, trainmen, yardmen and switch tenders in four lodges in Baltimore, Cumberland, Hagerstown and Elkins.

His election through a referendum was confirmed this week by international brotherhood headquarters in Cleveland.

He won over four other candidates from Baltimore, Hagerstown and Cumberland.

Parsons, in addition to his BRT duties, is a conductor on the Cumberland to Conowingo run of the railroad.

Parsons and his wife, the former Anna Catherine Geatz, have three children, Van Parsons, a student at University of Miami, Cindy, a student at Ursuline Academy, and Steven, a pupil at St. Peter and Paul School.

Parsons is a native of Tucker County and was an outstanding athlete at Parsons High School.

Oral Surgeon Opens Office

Dr. Jack E. Arch has announced the opening of offices for the practice of oral surgery at 37 Greene Street.

A graduate of the University of Pittsburgh Dental School, he served two years in the Army Dental Corps. He also took part in the oral surgery graduate program of the New York City Municipal Hospitals at Bronx, Municipal and Queens General hospitals.

Dr. Arch, a native of Harrisburg, Pa., served with a residency and fellowship in general anesthesia and basic sciences related to oral surgery at the University of Pittsburgh Health Professions Hospitals in 1956 and 1957. He held a residency in oral surgery at Montefiore Hospital in Pittsburgh in 1957 and 1958.

He is married to the former Estelle Rosenberg of Pittsburgh and they are residing in LaVale with their three daughters, Lynne, 7; Shelly, 4; and Robin, 1.

Four Injured In Road Crash

Four persons were injured, two hospitalized, following a three-car collision on U.S. Route 40 seven miles west of Hancock last Saturday.

Admitted to the Berkeley Springs hospital was Dwight C. Walker, Washington, driver of one of the cars, and Maynard Bishop, 110 5, city. Both sustained minor injuries.

State Police said the collision occurred when the Walker car, which was eastbound, collided with a car driven by Frederick S. Erdosy, Baltimore. Trooper Robert Kirby said the Erdosy car was straddling the white line at the time of the accident.

Bishop was a passenger in the Erdosy vehicle, police said. The third car was being driven by Alexander Gardner of Lonaconing. His auto rammed into the rear of the Walker vehicle.

Flu Bug Still Taking Toll At Area School

The absenteeism continued to climb at Mt. Savage School today with 335 reported missing from classes.

Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in Allegany County, said today's figure of 335 is an increase of six over the number missing from school yesterday. The school has an enrollment of 758 students.

Officials of the school say the large number of absences is due to an outbreak of influenza in the Mt. Savage area.

Higgins said however, other schools in the county have not been effected by the flu bug.

Road Safety Bills Backed By Governor

Commission Measure Ready For Passage In Lower House

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes moved yesterday to cut down the slaughter, injuries and property damage arising from highway accidents in Maryland.

In a series of actions he:

1. Endorsed bills aimed at reducing highway deaths and injuries, making it easier to convict drivers suspected of intoxication and tightening eye requirements for drivers licenses.

2. Approved in advance of its introduction a resolution urging him to call State traffic magistrates together for a crack down on violators.

3. Created a new post of administrative assistant in charge of public safety to assure stronger coordination of traffic safety activities.

Praise By Delegates

The actions of the new governor drew immediate praise on the House floor from Del. Edgar Silver (D-Balto 5th) who heads the Legislature's Motor Vehicles Committee and has seen many of its proposals fail to gain sufficient backing.

"There probably has been more said and less done on this subject than any other in Maryland the past eight years," Silver told the House.

"Governor Tawes has been in office a very short time and has many problems, but he has taken time to realize one of the most important problems is highway safety. He is doing something about it. He has come forth with a program."

Tawes told his first news conference following his inauguration that one of his major objectives would be improving traffic safety.

The Legislature is expected to approve whatever he recommends.

An example came yesterday when his bill to reorganize the State Roads Commission emerged from the Ways and Means Committee after its introduction. The House gave the committee report speedy approval and set the bill up for passage today or tomorrow.

Billboard Bill Passes

The Senate, meanwhile, enacted and sent to the governor an SRC bill calling for no billboards within 600 feet of an expressway. Efforts of billboard lobbyists to exclude cities and towns were channeled into a separate bill which will be up for public hearing later. The roadside control bill will enable Maryland to collect three million dollars additional in federal highway aid.

In launching his traffic safety program yesterday, Tawes said he realized that perfect highway safety could not be legislated.

"But the toll in deaths, injuries and property damage from highway accidents has reached proportions so shocking as to demand stricter laws and stiffer regulations," he said.

There were 505 deaths in Maryland traffic last year, and property damage was estimated at 66 million dollars in traffic accidents.

The point-system bill Tawes proposed will set up a program of giving violators a certain number of demerits for each offense, with an accumulation of points leading to revocation of their licenses.

State Police have said in the past it would be one of the most effective means of promoting traffic safety, but the Department of Motor Vehicles protested it was not equipped to handle it. Tawes proposed the law not take effect until Dec. 31, 1960, in order to give the department time to get ready.

Chemical Tests

He said of the bill which would permit police to give chemical tests to drivers suspected of intoxication: "It is an acknowledged fact that drunken driving is the cause of many serious accidents. In my judgment, chemical tests would aid in the detection of drunken driving and would serve as a deterrent to the violation."

Such tests would be voluntary under terms of the House bill under consideration.

The governor said two other major proposals—compulsory annual inspection of cars and required driver education in high schools—need further study as to financing and mode of operation.

He named J. Newton Brewer Jr., 41-year-old Montgomery County Democrat leader, as his new administrative assistant in charge. (Continued on Page 14)

United Fund Report Lists Allocations

Campaign For 1959 Conducted At Half Cost Of Average

Figures released today by County United Fund, following final allocations for 1959, show that the CUF campaign of last October with 32 agencies participating operated at less than half the expense of the last Community Chest campaign, in which only nine agencies participated.

Temperature Drops Below Zero Reading

Another cold wave moved into the tri-state area today, dumping snow in the higher elevations to the west and southwest of Cumberland.

A two-degree below zero reading was reported at Big Savage Mountain this morning while Oakland and Accident had five above. The snowfall ranged from four inches at Elkins to a trace at Cumberland. There was no snow in Maryland east of this city. The State Roads Commission reported.

And it is to be colder by morning in Allegany and Washington counties where low readings of 12 degrees were recorded this morning.

It is to be clear and colder tonight with the low between 5 and 12 degrees. Tomorrow is to be sunny, cold with little change in temperatures. The outlook for Saturday is increasing cloudiness and warmer.

Garrett County is to have a low near zero by morning and tomorrow is to be sunny and not so cold, with the high near 24 degrees.

icy northwest winds were the rule in Western Maryland today.

The low readings today were 12 above at Cumberland, and town Hill; seven degrees at Frostburg; four degrees at Deal; eight degrees at Thomas and six degrees at Elkins.

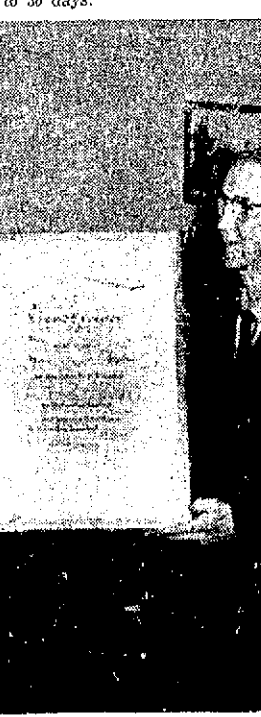

Accident had two and one half inches of snow; Oakland, one and three quarter inches; Big Savage, two inches; Frostburg, one and one-half inches and LaVale, half inch, the SRC reported.

Three Local Men Given Jail Terms

Magistrate Morris Baron this morning sentenced three local men to the Allegany County Jail for being habitual drunkards.

"Buck" Brant, who was released from the county lockup on Monday, and Henry Flanagan were given two months each, while Garnet Yost was sentenced to 30 days.

sentencing Cosgrove with an artistic scroll recognizing his employment at the local brewery since June 21, 1900. Looking on is Orville M. Young, president of the United Brewery Workers Union. Cosgrove was employed as chief engineer.

Eighty-Five Seek Training In Machine Shop Course

Allegany County Board of Education officials were amazed today at the registration for the machine shop course for unemployed adults of this area.

Eighty-five men signed up for the instruction yesterday and Tuesday at the Allegany Trades School, according to J. D. Lounholm, director of vocational education for the board.

Lounholm said that due to the facilities available at the trade school only 24 can be handled at one time.

The Cumberland office of the State Department of Employment will cooperate with the Board of Education officials in the next meeting of city officials.

Those not taken in at this time with members of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, on file. These will be given preference treatment when the next one is started, Lounholm pointed out.

The road was termed in deplorable condition by the mayor, who said he felt some assistance is due from the county since the road is not only used by city residents, but also by contractors and residents of the county traveling to the dump.

A formal request that the road be included in the county system was made by the Mayor and Council to the former county commissioners. The request was made on the basis that the county would then be paid gasoline tax revenues which would be used for maintaining the road.

The request was turned down on the recommendation of Harry T. Skelly, county roads supervisor, who explained that the road did not meet required specifications for inclusion in the county system. Skelly also pointed out that a hard-surface road such as the city recommended would cost approximately $15,000.

The roads supervisor said he considered the cost prohibitive in view of the revenue which would be available from the State Roads Commission and in face of the fact that the city spokesmen indicated the impending need of a new site for a city dump.

Skelly said he would be in favor of a written agreement whereby the county would assist in maintaining the road, with the county's obligation spelled out.

Liquor Hour Bill Before Legislature

Four Delegates Sponsor Measure To Extend Time

A bill that would give residents of Allegany County a chance to vote on extending by one hour the weekday selling hours in alcoholic beverage establishments was introduced today in the House of Delegates.

Four county delegates are the sponsors of the measure, Thomas P. Conlon Jr., Noel Speltz, Fred H. Driscoll and William Walsh.

The bill, subject to the referendum, was introduced at the request of the Allegany County Liquor Dealers Association, a delegation spokesman said.

Same On Saturday

The measure would extend from midnight to 1 a. m. the weekday selling hours of alcoholic beverages. The Saturday midnight closing would remain the same as it is.

The present law allows the consumption of alcoholic beverages until 1 a. m. but the deadline for sales is midnight.

The request for the extension in hours has been a perennial issue in the legislature as far as Allegany County is concerned, one delegate said, and the vote would end the matter.

Any group or citizen, he explained, has a right to under the Maryland Constitution to petition the General assembly for a redress of grievances.

Claim Revenue Loss

The liquor dealers association has complained for a number of years of the loss of one-hour selling time when Daylight Saving Time is in effect—which is for a half of the year.

Tax revenue and sales are lost to West Virginia which has a 1 a. m. DST closing because it operates its taverns on Standard Time, and in Pennsylvania, where during weekdays hours can stay open until 3 a. m. Daylight Time. The deadline there is 2 a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

No local legislation concerning alcoholic beverages is handled by the delegation acting as a committee.

All liquor and beer legislation is referred to the alcoholic beverages committee of the House of Delegates.

A hearing will be held by this committee on the Allegany County proposal, it was reported today.

Emergency Bill Passes

The State Senate yesterday enacted House Bill 204, sponsored by the delegation, that would allow the county commissioners to contract for services of a professional nature without competitive bidding.

This is an emergency measure and will become law upon signature by Gov. Tawes. The county commissioners have to hire an engineer to make a survey of the sewage problems of the Georges Creek section, under orders of the State Board of Health.

The Senate yesterday passed Senate Bill 204 sponsored by Sen. Charles M. See that would authorize the county commissioners to expend $2,000 for a survey of physically handicapped children in Allegany County.

Television Digs Grave, Says Butler

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md.) said last night the television networks are digging their own graves by offering programs he said are devoted to wholesale murder and commercials "geared to know-nothings."

Saying this was inviting competition from subscription TV, Butler—an opponent of pay TV—said network and station program directors must clean house.

Otherwise, he said, the Senate Commerce Committee, of which he is a member, may have to act.

Butler said in a statement commercial television and those who supply video advertising copy appear to have adopted a "public be darned" attitude.

"A great majority of the programs are not even second rate," he said. "They are largely devoted to wholesale murder in the most hideous fashion. And, while they may not frighten the youngsters, the grownups are scared to death of the effect such programs have on their offspring. Even some of the songs have homicidal themes."

Butler said some TV detective and westerns aren't bad, adding he regards Perry Mason and Matt Dillon as excellent.

As for advertising, he said "it insults the intelligence of the viewer."

The company said it hopes that employee-management relations will be improved by the direct participation of three top executives in final settlements of any future complaints. The officials are Robert M. Hainsfurther, general manager of plate glass facilities; Howard Halbach, general manager of window glass plants; and William Poundstone, general manager of structural glass.

PPG officials here said, however, that local plant grievance systems will be retained.

Hepatitis Hits Virginia School

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP)—An outbreak of hepatitis at Woodley Hills Elementary School has prompted Fairfax County school officials to begin an inoculation program aimed at protecting some 750 children.

The county has received gamma globulin from the Virginia Health Department and a county health team is administering shots free of charge to those pupils who have not been hit by the ailment.

Dr. Harold Kennedy, Fairfax medical director, said six children have contracted hepatitis since December, the latest last Tuesday. The other students have returned to school.

Hepatitis, sometimes referred to as yellow jaundice, is a highly contagious infection of the liver. It is considered a minor ailment among children, but a serious one for adults.

Rate Hike Ruled Excessively High

BALTIMORE (AP)—Circuit Judge Joseph L. Carter today ruled that the rates the Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. has been charging since last August were excessive. It left the way open for a refund.

Wilfred T. McQuaid, people's counsel for the Public Service Commission, had appealed the utility's last rate hike as excessive. Judge Carter in effect agreed, saying that the new rate base was based partly on improper figures. McQuaid said that more than two million dollars of the rate increases collected by the company since Aug. 1 should be refunded.

State Employees To Get Pay Hike

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Standard Salary Board says pay increases for State employees will go into effect March 1—the beginning of the first pay period in the month.

The increases originally were scheduled for May 1, but were moved up after Gov. Tawes announced last week that $300,000 needed to advance the plan had been found.

Couple Gets Settlement For Accident

BALTIMORE (AP)—A prominent Washington civic leader and his wife have received an out-of-court settlement of $35,000 for injuries sustained in a May 1958 traffic accident.

The award to John A. Remon, 73, and his wife was announced by Federal Judge R. Dorsey Watkins yesterday just before the scheduled start of a jury trial.

Remon is a retired vice president of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. and a member of the National Capital Planning Commission.

Thomas M. Walsh, driver of the station wagon in which the Remons were riding, was awarded $4,000.

The accident occurred on U.S. 40 near Clear Spring, Washington County. Defendants in the case were Donald V. Magaha, driver of a beer truck which collided with the station wagon, and Lloyd M. Bentzel, owner of the truck and beer distributor in the Hagerstown area.

West Virginia Tax Bill House Passage In Sight

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A bill to raise $3,000,000 a year contracting through a tax on property transfers was expected to win House approval today, but it faced an uncertain fate in the State Senate.

Also scheduled for passage in the House was a Senate-approved bill to increase charges to private patients in state mental clinics, which would become the first Democratic steering committee revenue measure to be enacted.

The House of Delegates turned its attention to these revenue bills after killing a controversial bill designed to relax restrictions on advertising by funeral homes in West Virginia.

The measure was buried by a 58-40 vote following an hours debate. Forty-nine Democrats and nine Republicans teamed up to embalm the bill, which had already been weakened by a series of amendments.

If approved by the House, the property transfer tax bill would be the first major revenue measure to win approval of either chamber at the current session. House Democrats threw their support behind it at a caucus last week, as a probable substitute for extending tea sales to groceries and institutions in the U.S. totaled more than 108 million pounds in 1958, second largest in history.

Repeal Of Blue Laws Proposed In W. Va. Bill

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—All Sunday "blue laws" in the West Virginia statutes would be repealed under a bill recommended for passage by the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday.

Union Votes For Strike Against C&P

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—One of the largest of 11 Communications Workers' union locals in West Virginia has voted unanimously to go on strike against Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., according to state CWA President Oscar L. Davis.

Davis made the disclosure of action by members of the Parkersburg area local following another fruitless negotiating session Wednesday between union and C&P officials. They are trying to reach agreement on a contract to replace one that expired last Friday midnight.

Both sides said there was no progress at a one-hour Wednesday meeting but agreed to meet again this afternoon with Federal mediator Joseph C. Wright.

Davis said the Parkersburg local of some 325 members from the Parkersburg, Pl. Pleasant and Ravenswood areas, was the only one he knew that had taken a strike vote. CWA has about 4,100 members with C&P in the state.

The House Judiciary Committee reported out a committee substitute for a bill to extend the state civil service system. Originally designed to bring some 4,000 state employees under the merit system, it was watered down to cover only an estimated 285 technical employees.

Tabled was a bill to allow chiropractic services to be compensated from the state workmen's compensation fund.

The House Mines Committee reported out a substitute for a bill to overhaul strip mining laws. One of the major changes from the original bill would be to give the Mines Department exclusive control over rehabilitation of stripped land, instead of sharing it with the Agriculture Department.

The House Education Committee sent to the floor without recommendation a bill to provide for election of county school board members at special elections in odd-numbered years starting in 1961. They are now chosen at the time of statewide primary elections.

He was charged with malicious mischief.

CRISFIELD, Md. (AP)—A 17-year-old Crisfield youth was free in $2,500 bail today after waiving a preliminary hearing on breaking and entering and grand larceny charges.

The youth, Leon McDorman, is accused of taking $3,270 in rings and watches from a jewelry store owned by Richard McDorman, no relation. Police quoted the youth as saying he mailed the loot back to the store, but the jeweler contends about 20 watches still are missing.

Successful Campaign Manager New W. Va. Demo Committeeman

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—work by party members next year offer no assurances for 1960. Amos will serve until 1960 when West Virginia delegates to the Democratic National Convention will hold a quadrennial election to choose the national committee and committeemen for the state. Amos and Violet Snodgrass, Elkins, are expected to be re-elected then.

Amos served 22 consecutive years in the state Legislature up to 1957. He was speaker of the House of Delegates in 1943, 1945 and 1947, then was elected to the Senate where he served as majority leader in 1953 and 1955. At the fund-raising victory dinner, Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert Byrd both emphasized the party could not "rest on our laurels" but must continue intensive work for 1960. As Randolph put it, "The achievements of 1958 operations."

Amos joined with other Democrats Wednesday night in a celebration of their smash win in the Nov. 4 general election. He and others called for more hard work.

Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit
Will Visit Keyser March 3

WELCOMES PROBE — Dr. Charles H. Bushm, superintendent of public instruction in Pennsylvania, gestures with his finger as he tells newsmen that he welcomes a Senate inquiry of the department's operations. He denied categorically a news conference charges of "mismanagement" leveled at him by Sen. George Wade (R-Cumberland).

KEYSER — Various industries of Keyser have agreed to promote the next visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile unit Tuesday, March 3, from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m. at Grace Methodist Church. The quota will be 100 pints.

J. Kenna Burke, chairman of the blood program for this area, said a total of 200 pints of blood have been used at the local hospital since July and that the recent need indicates that residents of this area should be more interested than ever about donating blood during the visits here.

The unit from the Johnstown Center will again be present and representatives of various organizations in the city will assist with the necessary work.

Was Damage Suit
Indications are strong that defense attorneys will appeal the $12,500 award given to Mrs. Edith Flanagan by a jury in Mineral County Circuit Court Tuesday against the Osgood Bus Lines and the estate of the late Lonnie P. Dayton.

The 60-year-old Mrs. Flanagan, who lives on McMullen Highway, sued for $15,000 for permanent injuries allegedly received when an Osgood bus on which she was a passenger was rammed from the rear by a car driven by Dayton in October, 1957, on Memorial Bridge. Dayton was fatally injured in the accident.

Although there is nothing official, it is understood in court circles that Mrs. Flanagan and her attorneys, H. R. Althey and H. G. Shores offered to settle the suit out of court for a far less amount than the $12,500 awarded.

The jury took about an hour and a half to reach its verdict. Defense attorneys immediately filed a motion for a new trial, which Judge Ernest A. See will rule on February 27. Representing the Dayton estate were Attorneys N. Howard Rogers and John M. Hamilton. Attorneys James H. Swadley Jr. and Vernon E. Rankin represented the bus company.

Should Judge See overrule the motion for a new trial, it is more than possible the verdict will be appealed to the West Virginia Supreme Court.

The suit ended jury trials for the current term of court.

Barton Area
Water Supply
Is Discussed

BARTON — Peter C. Dodge of the Sanitary Engineering, Maryland State Department of Health, last night spoke to citizens of Barton who are concerned about the local water problem.

Dodge said town officials will have to contact an engineer to study the problem.

He also suggested that arrangements be made to study the possibilities of getting federal aid to improve the present water situation.

Some 75 persons in attendance at the American Legion Home voted to invite Mayor Arthur Hoffa and members of the town council to attend a meeting February 25.

Meanwhile, citizens decided to check into the legal procedure which can be taken to get additional water for the community, which has been without a sufficient supply for some time.

Ernest Pola was in charge of the meeting. Joseph Shuhart Jr. arranged the program, which included a talk by Rex Dexter, resident engineer in charge of the flood control project in Cumberland. He outlined plans for a better water supply for Barton.

Carolina Hurdles State, Still Has Long Row To Hoe

Moves Near ACC Title, Plays Terps On Saturday

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press International

North Carolina's top-ranked Tar Heels have hurdled their last major obstacle on the way to an unbeaten season in the tough Atlantic Coast Conference but they still have a long row to hoe before they can take another crack at the NCAA championship.

Frank McGuire's sharpshooters turned back arch-rival North Carolina State, 74-67, on their home court Wednesday night and can clinch a tie for first place in the ACC by defeating Maryland Saturday.

However, unlike most conferences, winners of the Atlantic Coast title do not qualify automatically for the NCAA slugging. The first eight finishers meet in a post-season tournament, which was described by McGuire earlier this week as "a kinda Russian roulette."

Tough Grind
"You knock yourself out in conference play all season and then you have to start all over again in the tournament," moaned the New York-born Tar Heel coach. "Then if you're lucky enough to win the tournament, your guys are physically exhausted for the NCAA championship."

Despite McGuire's seemingly legitimate grouching, he apparently has the horses to go all the way again this year. Two seasons ago, the Tar Heels went unbeaten in 24 regular season games, breezed through the conference tournament, and then won the NCAA title with a thrilling triple-overtime victory over Kansas and Will Chamberlain.

Almost Dissipate Lead
This latest Tar Heel club has lost only to Michigan State in 10 games and seems to be picking up momentum with each succeeding contest. In Wednesday night's battle with N.C. State the McGuire men almost dissipated a 13-point second half lead and then came on again to beat the Wolfpack for the second time this season.

The Tar Heels led by 45-32 early in the second half but State then rallied and trailed by only 66-64 by 1:42 left in the game. However, baskets by Lee Shaffer and Doug McE, plus four free throws by York Larese, sunk the Wolfpack.

Kentucky and West Virginia, two other leading NCAA hopefuls, also turned back long-time foes Wednesday night. The third-ranked Wildcats averaged an earlier defeat in whipping Vanderbilt, 83-71, and West Virginia broke loose in the second half to defeat Pittsburgh, 90-69.

Kentucky Catches Fire
Vanderbilt, hitting on 46.3 per cent of its shots, trailed Kentucky by only two points with 11 minutes remaining. But the Wildcats led by Johnny Cox and reserve Bobby Shusher, then caught fire and opened a commanding lead. Cox wound up with 21 points, three more than Shusher. Jerry West scored 27 points and grabbed 22 rebounds in leading West Virginia to victory at Pittsburgh. Don Hannon nailed 25 for the Panthers, who tied badly in the second half after trailing by only 33-34 at intermission.

Knicks' Magic Number Seven

By The Associated Press
The New York Knickerbockers' magic number for clinching second place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association is a lucky seven today. The Knicks took a 3½ game lead over Syracuse by defeating the Cincinnati Royals 118-116 Wednesday night. Any combination of average mark will set a new New York victory or Syracuse defeat totaling seven will clinch second place for Fuzzy Levane's crew.

In the only other game scheduled, the Minneapolis Lakers posted their second triumph over Detroit in as many nights, 105-85. Richie Guerin scored 33 points for New York. Jack Twyman was the Royals' high scorer with 34 points.

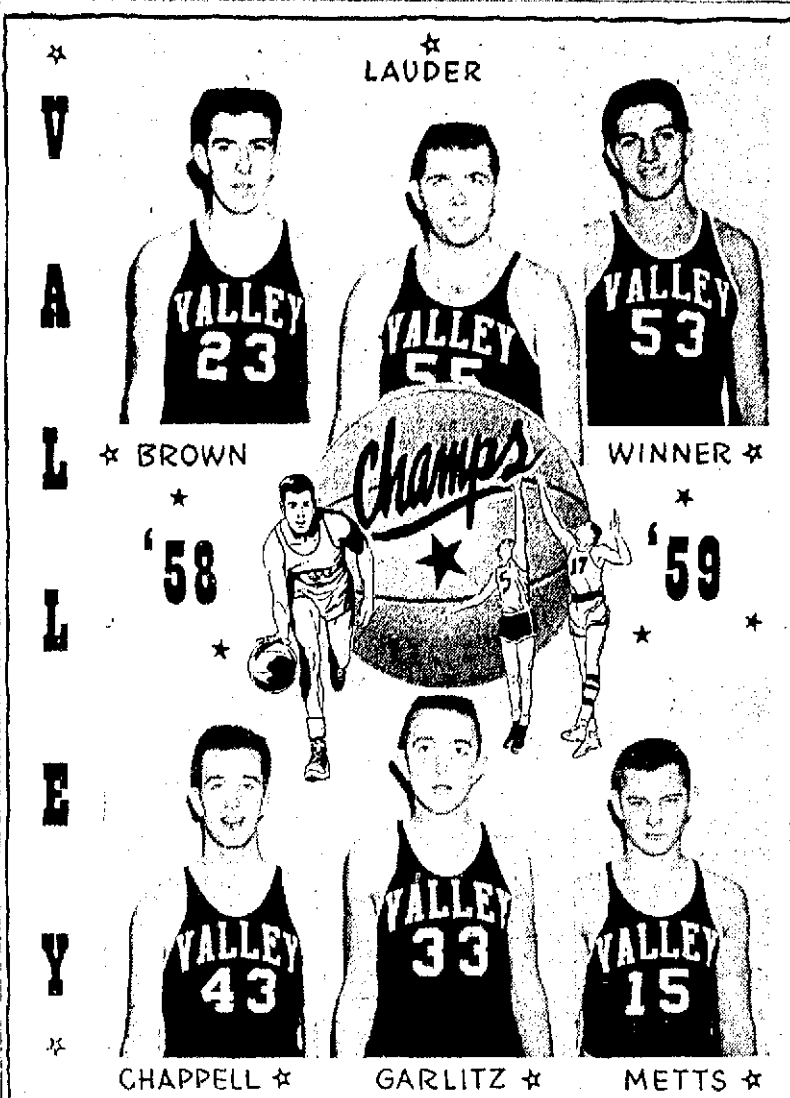

Minneapolis got 29 points from Elgin Baylor and 23 from Larry Foust as it opened a three-game lead over the Pistons in the battle for second place in the Western Division. Gene Shue topped Detroit with 22 points.

'Red' Schoendienst To Undergo Surgery

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Red Schoendienst today will undergo an operation to remove a tubercular area on his right lung.
Dr. William A. Werner, medical director of St. Rose Hospital, where Schoendienst is confined, described the operation as "major surgery which is done frequently and is highly successful." It is expected to take at least three hours.

Savold Improving

PARAMUS, N. J. (UPI) — Lee Savold, former heavyweight contender who fought Joe Louis and Rocky Marciano in non-title bouts, is improving from an ear infection suffered with 28 points while Dick Tilton at Bergen Pines Hospital.

Keyser Wins PVC Title

Tornado Tops Lions, 71-57; Maphis Sets Scoring Marks

Two new champions were crowned last night as Keyser bagged the Potomac Valley Conference basketball title and Romney High's sensational scoring star Bill Maphis cracked the league and area point records.

Keyser, in displacing Piedmont as the conference king, did it by whipping the defending champs, 71-57, on their home court. It's the first title for coach John Shelton's team since 1952.

Records Fall To Maphis
Maphis solidified his bid for all-state honors by slugging home 32 points as the Panthers routed Wardsville, 82-63. His output boosted his PVC totals to 472, counting in 16 games for a 29.5 average. It erased the mark of Moorefield's Jim Vetter who had poured in 456 tallies last season for 17 games.

In addition to setting a PVC scoring record Maphis also raised his per game average in the loop above the top average set by Carl Hartman of Ridgeley in 1951—29.0 points per contest. Maphis has one more PVC game to play when Romney meets Capon Bridge tomorrow.

The second area mark falling was Herman "Buddy" Meyer's 557 points in the regular 1957 season for Mountaineer High. Maphis' scoring spree against Wardsville pushed his seasonal total to 581 tallies in 19 games.

He still has a pair of contests against Capon Bridge tomorrow and Martinsburg on Saturday, February 28, in which to shoot for the all-time area scoring record of 637 points set by Bruce May of Hyndman in 1954. May collected his total in 27 games while Maphis will play but 21 this year. Maphis' average for 19 games is 30.6 per contest, far above the 27.9 average recorded by Meyer in 1957. If Bill maintains his lead over Syracuse by defeating the Cincinnati Royals in the final two games he can set a new New York victory or Syracuse defeat totaling seven will clinch second place for Fuzzy Levane's crew.

Tommy jumped out in front against Wardsville and was never headed. However, Wardsville remained within eight or 10 points until the third stanza when the Panthers tallied 21 points, 12 by Maphis, to break the game open.

Break Game Open
Dave Kirk pitched in 22 points for Romney while Jim Fridley tallied 24 for Wardsville.

Breaking a second-period tie on Bill Keller's basket, Keyser steadily increased its margin to defeat Piedmont.

The triumph was the 13th in 14 games for coach Shelton's crew and gave the Tornado an unbreakable hold on the loop crown. Franklin, with a 10-1 mark, cannot tie for the title because the Panthers play but one more conference game.

Piedmont, dropping both games of the series to Keyser, gave the Tornado a battle in the first half, the score being tied several times before Keyser pulled away to a 31-26 halftime lead.

With the count deadlocked at 25-25, Keller scored a basket which put Keyser ahead to stay. In scoring their sixth league title in the history of the PVC, Keyser pushed the margin to 53-40 in the third period and coasted home.

Ronnie Smith, high-scoring center for the winners, paced the team with 28 points while Dick Russell bagged 17 in a losing

Los Angeles To Improve, Says Alston

This is another in a series by major league managers giving mid-winter appraisals of their teams.

By WALT ALSTON
Manager, Los Angeles Dodgers
Written For UPI

OXFORD, Ohio (UPI) — The Dodgers should be better next season, but we'll just have to wait and see how much.

As with most ball clubs, an awful lot depends upon our pitching. I know that worries me as much as anything. Our staff had a lot of bad luck last year and that was the reason for our low finish as much as anything.

A lot of our trouble came from severe arms that just wouldn't come around. Ed Roebuck was out all of the season and Don Bessent a good part of the year. Those two boys have done good jobs in relief and it really hurt to have them out of there.

On top of that, Don Drysdale was in service and didn't get a real good spring training.

Has Same Stuff

This year, we'll have practically the same staff, and it should be a pretty good one if everybody is sound. It is a relatively young staff centered around Drysdale, Sandy Koufax, Johnny Podres and Clem Labine. Labine was out with injuries a lot last summer. Take him off the staff and it makes a big difference.

In the catching department, I'm pretty high on John Roseboro, who has all the tools, equipment, speed and power to make a great catcher. Last year, our pitching staff was young and so was Roseboro, but we were pleased with the way he came through. He'll give us a better catching job this year. We know he can hit.

Backing him up with Joe Pignatano, who probably is a better receiver than Roseboro but he doesn't have Roseboro's power. Going around our infield, we have plenty of power at first base with Gil Hodges — and Steve Bilko, backing him up. Hodges had a bad year last season, although he did have a short left field fence as a target.

Shorter Right Field

We are bringing in that long, right field fence this season, which is sure to help some of our left-handed power hitters such as Snider, Roseboro and young Norm Larker. Larker, incidentally, will help out at first as well as in the outfield.

At second base, Charlie Neal is a steady influence and has the power, especially at home. He also hits a long ball to right center. Junior Gilliam will back up Neal at second. We won a couple pennants with Gilliam there, and he can do just about everything that Neal can do except maybe the double play.

Don Zimmer did a good job for us at shortstop last year. If a youngster we brought up from St. Paul—Bob Lillis—comes through, Zimmer may go to third. Lillis is a fine defensive man who can bunt and drive in runs for you. He doesn't have quite as much power as Zimmer, though.

It could be almost anybody at third. Although it's undecided, the third base is the least of my worries. It could be Dick Gray, who would supply some extra power, or even Gilliam if Zimmer stays at short.

Snider's Knee Better

In the outfield, Snider reports his knee is coming along a lot better after an operation. We can reasonably expect he will be better. He definitely was handicapped in 1958 by the knee and he played a lot of games he shouldn't have played. Duke, of course, is going to be helped most by the shorter fence in right field.

Club officials didn't say how much the hard-hitting left fielder was getting, but it was believed he had yielded to a $25,000 pay offer. This would be about $2,000 more than he received in 1958.

Niemann, an eight year veteran in the American League, was obtained from Chicago in 1956. He hit .320 with the Orioles his first year, the highest qualifying batting percentage posted by a modern-day Baltimore major leaguer.

Overall, I would say we will have a pretty good outfield.

Niemann Agrees To Oriole Pact

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bob Niemann, who hit .325 for the Baltimore Orioles last year despite a series of injuries, has signed his 1959 contract.

Club officials didn't say how much the hard-hitting left fielder was getting, but it was believed he had yielded to a $25,000 pay offer. This would be about $2,000 more than he received in 1958.

Niemann, an eight year veteran in the American League, was obtained from Chicago in 1956. He hit .320 with the Orioles his first year, the highest qualifying batting percentage posted by a modern-day Baltimore major leaguer.

But Little came here from victories at Phoenix and Tucson and acknowledged is playing the best golf of the tour.

The seventh-annual Cumberland National Championship Sports Car Races will be staged May 15-16-17 and again feature many of the nation's top amateur competition drivers.

As in the past the races will be staged at the Cumberland Municipal Airport and be co-sponsored by the Cumberland Lions Club Foundation and Steel Cities Region, Sports Car Club of America.

One of the highlights of the 1959 meeting will be races for novice drivers and temporary license holders. These events will be staged on Saturday, May 16.

Count For Point Honors

Senior drivers will make their bids for coveted silver trophies and points for national recognition on Sunday. A card of eight events featuring foreign and domestic cars in the various displacement classes is scheduled to get under way early May 17.

Steel Cities Promoter

Cumberland Championship Races again will attract a great deal of attention from U. S. and European automobile manufacturers who have been using the Cumberland course as an official operation, while the Cumberland Lions Club will serve as project administrators.

All proceeds will be used by the Cumberland Lions Foundation for its extended charitable youth programs.

Chairmen of the three-day event are Henry K. Duke, Cumberland Steel Cities Region, which has helped promote the Cumberland insurance executive, and Wesley North Hagerstown, going for an undefeated season, can pick up the Cumberland Valley Athletic League basketball title tonight when coach Mel Henry's Hubs have their return game with Martinsburg on the Hagerstown court.

The Norths, unbeaten in 18 starts, have already clinched a tie for the title taken last year by Fort Hill and carry an 8-0 mark into the game with the Bulldogs who are 4-3 in the circuit. The Sentinels are runnerup with a 5-2 mark.

North has whipped Fort Hill, South Hagerstown and Frederick twice and Martinsburg and Allegany once. The Henrymen wind up their league campaign with Allegany at Hagerstown Wednesday, February 25.

Frederick High School won the league title in 1957 when the cage circuit was revived and Fort Hill bagged the championship last season.

Bayard High School's Tigers will be shooting for their 14th victory of the season tonight when they host Beverly High School. The Grant Countians have cupped six of their last seven starts and figure to sweep the series with Beverly which dropped the opener by the score of 64-54.

Brewers Win Again; Caseys Meet Exports

Knights of Columbus and Old Exports will dissolve the tie for third place in the City Basketball League when they tangle tonight at 7 o'clock on the Fort Hill court. Forty & Eight Club meets Chaney's Transportation at 8:30 in the second contest.

Old Germans, first-half champs, continued to mop up opposition as the unbeaten Brewers rapped to their 15th victory by thumping Chaney's, 100-69, last night at Carver. It was the first time this season a quint has passed the century mark.

Chaney's kept pace for the first two quarters and held the lead at 31-30 with 4:30 remaining in the first half.

Moran Paces Attack
Don Moran paced the Gees with 34 points, 16 of which came in the first quarter. Moran didn't play in the third period. Following the leader were Glenn Smith with 21 points, Bob Baleson with 16, and Evers "Buck" Smith with 13. Ellsworth Lambert and Colin Detrick had 29 and 17 markers for the losers.

The Germans have a 5-0 second-half mark and lead runnerup Moose (5-1) by one-half game. Knights of Columbus capped its third decision of the half by going out Forty & Eight in a game that had the score tied 10 times, 82-75, as Regis Pair dumped in 27 points on 13 field goals and one for four fouls.

Mullaney Hoops 20
The Knights were also paced by Marty Mullaney's 20 tallies. Bill Day and Ed Parsons spearheaded Forty & Eight with 22 and 18. Dave Ritter tossed in 17 and John Poling 14.

The losers had a 99-68 lead in the final stanza, but Bobby Christ meshed a goal and a foul loss to put the Caseys ahead for good at 71-69.

Snider, Sanford Already 'Slim' For Spring Drills

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Duke Snider and Jack Sanford, who never did get going in '58, indicated today that everything's going to be just fine in '59.

Spring training hasn't even officially opened but both the Los Angeles Dodgers outfielder and the San Francisco Giant pitcher already have accomplished their No. 1 goals—getting down to playing weight.

Snider, who weighed 212 pounds at the end of the 1958 season, suited up at the Dodgers' Vero Beach, Fla., training camp Wednesday at 195 pounds while Sanford checked into the Giants' Phoenix, Ariz., site at 191 pounds—21 less than when he reported to the Philadelphia Phillies last spring.

Snider is eager to bounce back from one of the poorest seasons of his career. One of the National League's must feared sluggers from 1952 through 1957, Snider hit only 15 homers and knocked in only 58 runs in 106 games last season. It was a sad "homecoming" for Snider, one of the few Dodgers who openly applauded the team's transfer from Brooklyn to Los Angeles.

"Sanford In Fine Shape"
Sanford, acquired by the Giants in a winter trade, is next to Willie Mays probably the key man of the club. A hard-throwing right-hander, he is being counted upon to pitch 250 or more innings and come close to his 1958 performance as a rookie in 1957. He had a 9-13 record last season.

Sanford said he is in "fine shape" and credited eight days of mineral baths and massages at nearby Buckhorn Springs for his swift figure.

Reports of a possible deal involving the Kansas City Athletics and the Detroit Tigers and several other notable signings were the other highlights as the official opening of most training camps began.

General managers Rick Ferrell of the Tigers and Parke Carroll of the Athletics confirmed the possibility of a trade although Carroll said he also was talking trade with two other American League clubs. The Seattle-Tulsa in the Tigers' Lakeland, Fla. base is that outfielder Roger Maris is a key figure in the negotiations. Ferrell said he and Carroll will discuss their package deal in Florida next week.

Nats Sign Hyde
The Washington Senators nabbed one of their top hands when relief ace Dick Hyde agreed to terms for an estimated $14,000, an increase of about $8,000 over 1958. Hyde, a 155-pound workhorse, compiled a 10-3 record and a 1.75 earned run average in 53 games last year.

The Yankees announced the signing of pitcher Don Larsen and first-baseman Mervyn Thorneberry and Frank Leja, Larsen, the perfect-game hero of the 1956 World Series, started like a whirlwind in 1958 but tapered off badly and wound up the season with a 9-6 record. He is believed to have resisted a 20 per cent cut and signed for the same $17,000 he got last year. Ten of the world champions remain unsigned.

Pirates Sign Skinner
Bob Skinner, who blossomed into a star last season, agreed to terms with the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Milwaukee Braves signed infielder Mel Roach and outfielder Andy Pafko, and the Baltimore Orioles signed outfielder Bob Nieman.

Skinner hit .321 and drove in 70 runs last season to help spark the Pirates to their second-place finish. Roach, 26, is considered the most likely replacement for ailing second-baseman Red Schoendienst. Pafko, 38, will be starting his 17th season in the big leagues. Nieman, 33, hit .325 and blasted out 16 homers last season.

Other camp news: Lindy McDaniel, the St. Louis Cardinals' $50,000 bonus pitcher, suffered appendicitis attack in Meridian, Miss., where an emergency operation was performed. Infielder Ossie Alvarez signed with the Tigers. Giants' President Horace Stoneham announced that Manager Bill Rigney, injured in an auto crash on Sunday, will check in at Phoenix on Monday.

Dodger Manager Walt Alston announced stepped-up schedule of spring workouts in accordance with club President Walter O'Malley's "get-tough" policy.

Smoky Burgess, catcher obtained from Cincinnati, signed with Pirates.

Retton, West Spark WVU Win Over Pitt

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Halfpint Ronnie Retton hasn't seen too much action of late for West Virginia what with Bucky Bolyard having improved so much. But the little guy proved Wednesday night that he's a mighty good man to have around in the clutch.

The 5-foot-7 Retton and All-America candidate Jerry West were responsible for turning a close game into a rout as the Mountaineers trounced Pitt 90-69 in Pittsburgh.

It was West Virginia's 21st victory in 23 games, with only one regular game left—against George Washington here Saturday night before an already-assured sellout crowd.

The fans turned out at Pittsburgh primarily to watch a duel between West and Pitt's 5-foot-8 All-America Don Hennon. Unlike the first game between the old rivals in Morgantown, the duel did take place.

Jerry Wins Duel
West got the better of it all the way, scoring 27 points to 25 for Hennon. West also pulled down 22 rebounds and was remarkable on defense, blocking numerous shots.

But the game was still close with 10 minutes remaining. It stood 58-52 when West scored seven straight points. That boosted the lead to 65-54. It wasn't quite over yet, though, and the score was 68-58 when Retton killed the Panthers.

He popped in a goal and after another by Dol Clouson, the Grant Town, W. Va., senior sank six straight points to run the West Virginia lead to 77-56. Retton finished with eight points.

Jim Ritchie continued his exceptional play for West Virginia, making 17 points and Bob Smith got 14. John Fridley added 13 to follow Hennon for Pitt.

The game was a humdinger until the West Virginia break-away in the last 10 minutes. West Virginia started with a rush to lead 10-1, but Pitt retaliated and pulled to a 35-34 at halftime. Pitt led twice early in the second half at 38-37 and 40-39 on Hennon points.

West, Smith Hit

It continued close for several minutes and the Panthers trailed only 47-45 when West tossed in a goal and Bob Smith drove in for another. The Mountaineers then boosted their lead to 56-48 as Pitt began to tire.

West Virginia outscored Pitt 32-17 in the final 30 minutes. The Mountaineers were outshot from the floor 15-10 in the first half but turned the tables for a 21-11 edge in goals the second half.

West Virginia now has beaten Pitt teams six straight times—every game in which Hennon played against them. In an earlier meeting at Morgantown, West Virginia won 73-64 with Hennon getting 13 points and West 16 as they were plagued with foul and shooting trouble, respectively.

St. Michael's After 14th Win In Row

St. Michael's of Frostburg, first-half champ, guns for its 14th win in a row and eighth for the second half when facing St. Patrick's tonight at 7:30 on the SS. Peter and Paul Court in the Catholic Youth Basketball League. St. Peter's of Westernport will play St. Mary's on the Gaels' hardwoods at the same time.

SS. Peter and Paul (6-1) was slated to oppose St. Ambrose, victor in five of seven contests, at 6:45 p. m. on the SS. Peter and Paul court, but the game was postponed last night because of illness on the St. Ambrose team.

Coach Joe Nolan of the visitors said the game tentatively has been reset for 6:30 p. m. on Monday on the local court.

Only nine more games remain on the schedule before the second-half race draws to a close on Thursday, February 26.

State Beaten As Tar Heels Near Crown

North Carolina's Tar Heels have just about wrapped up first seeding in the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament next month.

The 74-67 victory over North Carolina State last night boosted North Carolina's conference record to 11-0. State, which has completed its conference schedule, now is 12-2. The Tar Heels accounted for both defeats.

Three Foes Remaining
There's only a small chance that North Carolina could lose top seeding in the tourney. The No. 1 team in the nation has conference games remaining with Virginia, Maryland and Duke.

State, tied for sixth place nationally in the latest Associated Press poll, trounced North Carolina's 62-50 lead to 66-64 with about two minutes left.

But North Carolina surged back on the shooting of York Larese, who had 22 points, and Lee Shaffer, who was high with 23.

John Richter scored 18 to lead State.

Terps Dumped, 62-50

Virginia jumped into sixth place in conference standings by dumping Maryland 62-50.

The win, Virginia's third against seven conference defeats, pushed it ahead of Clemson, 3-9, and South Carolina, 2-8, in the battle to avoid a first round tournament meeting with either North Carolina or State.

Maryland managed to hold fourth place in the standings despite the loss.

Paul Atkins poured in 20 points to keep Virginia ahead throughout the second half. Maryland's top scorers were Jim Halleck and Al Bunge with 10 each.

Georgia bounced back in the last seven minutes of play to whip South Carolina 65-57.

Conference teams are idle to night.

Bastian Elected Men's Golf Prexy

Max Bastian was elected president of the Men's Golf Association at the sixth-annual awards dinner last night at the Cumberland Country Club. He succeeds Ben LaNeve who headed the association the past two years.

John Tucker Mason was elected vice president. George Bottori, treasurer, and George Garlitz, secretary, for the year.

Sixty members and invited guests attended the dinner at which LaNeve and Carroll Boggs, manager and golf professional at the Cumberland Country Club, presented trophies to winners and runnersup in tournaments held throughout the past year.

President LaNeve reported the golf association's present membership of 137 is an all-time high and he praised the tournament and handicapping committees and Boggs for the part they have played in the success of the program. There were 32 weekend tournaments during the 1958 season. The association handled 13 successful tournaments, averaging 74 participants, and 28 played in the junior tournament.

Pete Suder, former American League infielder, is scout for the Washington Senators.

Show Reveals Another Field Of Addiction

GOP Eligibles Selected For Liquor Board

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — I must confess a personal prejudice at the start of this review. I have had it up to here with plays about addiction — be it alcohol, dope, sleeping pills, waking pills or the cha-cha.

Up to Wednesday night about the only fields of addiction still unexplored were gambling and recommended last night by the Allegheny County Republican State Central Committee for the minor, its appointment to the Board of Alcoholic Beverages Licenses Commissioners, effective for a six-year term starting in May.

J. Glenn Beall Jr., chairman of the GOP committee, said the list included all eight who had applied to the committee for recommendation to the liquor board.

Sloan is a member of the county GOP committee and is the trial magistrate in Lonaconing.

Second on the list was Stanley Hamilton of this city, whose six-year term on the liquor board ends in May.

Others, in the order of recommendation, include Reuben Spiker, Cumberland; George Meyers, Cumberland; Verl Ash, Midland; Claude Van Meter, Cresaptown; H. Clifford Spiker, Cumberland; and William I. Gephart, Lonaconing.

Copies of this eight-man list will be forwarded to Governor J. Millard Tawes and State Senator Charles M. See, who requested them.

It is understood that the Democratic State Central Committee has recommended the appointment of Leslie L. Wilkinson, LaVale, to the Republican vacancy on the liquor board. Wilkinson is an uncle of Charles N. "Jerry" Wilkinson, former county commissioner.

Edward J. Ryan and Howard Vandegriff are the two Democrats on the liquor board.

GOP Leaders To Talk Here

Two prominent state Republicans will speak at the annual Lincoln Day Dinner tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

They are General James P. S. Doreux of Stevenson in Baltimore County, who served four terms as Congressman from Maryland's Second District, and former Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde of Beltsville, who represented this Sixth Congressional District for three terms.

Former Rep. Hyde will introduce Senator Kenneth B. Keating, of New York, the principal speaker, who pulled what amounted to a political upset in view of the Democratic trend when he gained election to the U.S. Senate last November.

J. Glenn Beall Jr., chairman of the County Republican State Central Committee, will serve as toastmaster at the Lincoln Day dinner. Last night he said about 250 persons have purchased tickets for the dinner but there still are a few left.

Charles J. Sager, music instructor at Frostburg State Teachers College, will provide vocal selections for the Friday night program.

Motoring Violators Bypass Roadblock

Schute Given Contract For Roof Repairs

Alex J. Schute, 127 Polk Street, was awarded the contract to repair the roof of Sylvan Retreat on a low bid of $297.65 submitted to the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners.

G. A. Largent, 24 Poloma Street, the only other bidder, submitted a price of $350.

Commissioner John J. Rowan and County Roads Supervisor Harry T. Skelly reported Tuesday on their investigation of two complaints which had been received last Friday. They agreed that the Bowling Green drainage condition, about which J. V. MacDonald had complained, needs repair. Skelly said the repairs will be made soon.

Rowan and Skelly also checked into a complaint from Mrs. Evelyn Couter of LaVale about a culvert and open sewer pipe on C Street in LaVale. They said nothing could be done by the county to correct this situation.

Skelly also had a report concerning High Street which runs off Bedford Road. John Cheney of the Valley Lumber Company had complained about the condition of the street. He said the street does not meet the proper specifications to be brought into county roads system. These specifications include drainage, safety and width.

Robert Turner, Anna Turner and Mrs. Delbert Knippenberg, all of Williams Road, complained they were compelled by Dog Warden Merwin R. Hast to purchase dog licenses when a neighbor was not.

In response to a request from Earl D. Grim, superintendent of the County Infirmary, the county commissioners have asked the County Civil Service Board to prepare a list of five eligibles for appointment as practical nurses.

Big Settlement: Debbie Suit For Divorce Uncontested

By JAMES BACON

AP Motion Picture Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Debbie Reynolds goes to Superior Court today for a divorce that will cost singer Eddie Fisher $40,000 a year alimony plus a $135,000 house and a bundle of other community property.

A source close to the principals disclosed those details of a property settlement signed within the last week. Under terms of the agreement, the 26-year-old actress will get custody of Carrie Frances, 2, and Todd Emmanuel, 1, with reasonable visitation rights for Fisher.

Fisher will not appear in court to contest the suit.

That could mean that the name of Elizabeth Taylor will not be mentioned in Debbie's testimony. In her suit, Debbie accused Fisher of extreme cruelty but made no mention of Miss Taylor.

That was an anti-climax to the sensational charges Debbie hurled last year at the raven-haired star. Miss Reynolds charged then that her marriage had been happy until her husband consorted with the young widow of showman Mike Todd with a tour of New York nightclubs.

Fisher and Miss Taylor are constant companions now.

Four-H Tractor Meeting Planned

Advanced leaders in Maryland's growing 4-H tractor training program are holding a series of district meetings to plan future 4-H tractor care activities.

Senior leaders of Allegheny and Garrett counties will meet tonight at the Hilltop Restaurant at Grantsville. James Arnold, assistant farm agent of Allegheny County, announced yesterday.

"Trends in the Maryland 4-H Tractor Program," is the subject of a talk given by Guy W. Gienger, extension agricultural engineer of the University of Maryland, who plans to attend tonight's meeting.

Local leaders working with the 4-H tractor program in the county will attend. Sherard Wilson, district 4-H Club agent, and a representative of the American Oil Company are also expected to be present.

Area tractor dealers have been invited to attend the meeting.

Two Beer Licenses Are Granted Here

Two beer licenses were issued Tuesday by the Allegheny County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners.

Roy W. Merrill, trading as the Fifth Street Grocery, 309 Fifth Street, obtained a Class A license for off premises consumption of beer. The second license was issued to Michael Savarese for premises at 305 Baltimore Avenue. This is a Class D type for consumption on the premises.

Vera Hackett held this license until she surrendered it January 12 when she went out of business.
